THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

His Excellency the President said :—

GENTLEMEN—

You have come here for the first meeting of the Legislative Council of the Governor of Bengal. I feel proud to preside over you. I feel not only proud but glad to welcome you. We all share the same hope—that as a Council we may do good. Most of you are the elected representatives of constituencies. Some of you have so deserved the confidence of your fellow-citizens that you come here unopposed. I never was able to do that myself, but I respect those who can, and I congratulate you. Others of you have fought an election and have won. I have fought elections. I have lost often enough and I have won often enough to be able to congratulate you also most sincerely.

I thank those who have come here on my invitation as nominated Members. I chose you because I believe that, whether officials or non-officials, you will be active in the true interests of those for whose good we exist. Our meeting to-day is a formal one, but we look forward to other meetings when we shall show that much as we may differ among ourselves in some things—possibly in many things—we are all united in our determination to do what we can for Bengal, for India and for the Empire.

Bengal has been without a Council for nearly ten months. Some of you perhaps thought this unfortunate. You may have wished for legislation—some of you, I know, would have liked to ask questions and to move resolutions. But the delay was unavoidable. Now that there is a Council you will, I feel sure, make full and fair use of it, and I feel sure that those of us who have to answer questions or to give consideration to criticism will do so fully and fairly.

Speaking for the first time in this room, I cannot help referring for a moment to His Excellency Lord Hardinge with whom and with whose predecessors as Governors General of India this room is so closely associated. A Resolution will be moved directly expresing what we all feel. I shall not in any way anticipate what will then be said much more ably than I could say it, but I would like to express my resolve to be guided as your President by the principles which guided Lord Hardinge as President in his Council, and my hope that we may all strive according to our lights as devotedly as he did.

Gentlemen, I cannot claim your confidence on the plea of Indian experience. My safest ground for asking it is my knowledge that I can always rely on the whole-hearted and candid advice of your tried friend Sir William Duke. He presided over the Bengal Legislative Council under circumstances now passed away. We are glad that he is to be our Vice-President.

Recent administrative changes made a reconstruction of the Council necessary. My colleagues and I gave, I hope, fair—as we certainly gave lengthy—consideration to all views which were put before us. And I am certain that the Government of India and the Secretary of State gave every consideration to what we put before them. The result, I hope, is not unsatisfactory; there has been no retrogression from the liberal principles on which the original system of Councils was conceived, rather there has been a progressive development. If that development seems to any of you (as perhaps it may) to be somewhat slow or over-cautious, you must remember that it is not very long, as things go in politics, since the introduction of the general Reform Scheme, and that great changes cannot be made hurriedly in matters of principle anywhere—least of all where—as here in India) changes must affect very varied communities, and where the most advanced must often have to take such comfort as they can from the thought that it is just because they are advanced, that they feel the grief which delay always brings to active-minded men.

We tried to maintain for the public the representation which they enjoyed in the late Legislative Councils of Bengal and of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The representation of the Corporation as a whole, of the University, of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, of the Calcutta Trades Association, of Chittagong Port, of the District Boards and of Muhammadans remains unaltered.

In the old Council of Eastern Bengal and Assam the tea interest was represented by two members elected by three Associations (of which only one now remains in Bengal). The tea interests of the province as a whole are now represented by a single elected Member. The jute interest used to be represented by a Member elected by the Narayanganj Chamber of Commerce, an arrangement which was admittedly not intended to be permanent. At first we hoped to form a constituency representing both the cultivating and manufacturing interests connected with jute, but we found that impracticable. We were very anxious to secure for the Council the services of a European gentleman with business-training and with mufassal interests and experience. We should have liked to have organised a suitable electorate for this, but we found we could not, and for the present, therefore, we have had to have recourse to nomination.

In the old Province of Bengal, landholders were treated more liberally than they were in Eastern Bengal and Assam, the two West Bengal Divisions jointly elected two members, while Dacca and Rajshahi elected but one Member alternately and the Chittagong Division elected a Member alternately with the Surma Valley Division. Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions have now been treated on a footing of equality with the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. But we had only a limited number of elective seats to dispose of, and we had the claims of many important interests to satisfy, and as we could not but feel that Chittagong Division has not the same importance as the other Divisions have, we were not able to extend to it more liberal treatment than it had before.

The municipalities, however, of Chittagong are better off than they were in Eastern Bengal and Assam. There are only six of them; their joint population is less than a hundred thousand. They could not reasonably be placed on the same footing as the more numerous and more populous municipalities in the other Divisions, but while in the old Council their amount of representation could be numerically expressed as one-quarter, they now elect one Member alternately with the landlords and thus secure a representation of practically one-half.

An extra seat has been given to the municipalities in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions alternately. And an elective seat, for which any one resident in the city may stand, has been given to the non-official Commissioners of the Calcutta Corporation.

Members of Local Boards now vote along with the non-official members of District Boards. The qualifications of landlords in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions have been lowered. The special franchise for Muhammadans has been extended. These changes will, we hope, interest an increased number of persons in the Council elections.

As regards candidates, Government servants are now expressly excluded. No separate qualifications are prescribed for Muhammadan candidates in their special electorates. Direct voting has been substituted for voting through delegates in the case of election by Local Boards and Muhammadans.

Finally, slightly larger powers are conferred on returning officers to enable them to decide quickly questions under dispute. These, gentlemen, are, roughly speaking, the changes that have been made. I think you will agree that their tendency is in the right direction.

You probably expect me to tell you what Bills Government hope to bring before Council. Three Bills will be introduced when we meet next Wednesday—a Public Demands Recovery Bill, a Board of Revenue Bill and a Calcutta Burial Boards Bill. The first of these aims at consolidating and amending the Law relating to the recovery of arrears of land-revenue and certain other State dues. A schedule will clearly set forth the rules of procedure to be followed instead of incorporating portions of the Code of the Civil Procedure by reference.

The Board of Revenue Bill contemplates reduction in the number of permanent Members of the Board from two to one, in consequence of the creation of the Executive Council for Bengal. There has been only one Member since [illegible]0, and there will only be one Member ordinarily in future, though power is taken to appoint a temporary Additional Member in cases of emergency.

The Calcutta Burial Boards Bill empowers Government to appoint a separate Board to superintend the burial of persons other than Christians and Muhammadans for which communities Burial Boards already exist.

Besides these, we hope to bring forward at least five other Bills. There will be a Laws Bill to assimilate, as far as possible, the Statute Law in force in Eastern and Western Bengal and to reconcile differences in matters of detail which were brought about by differences in the legislation on similar subjects passed by the two Councils while Eastern Bengal was a separate Province.

A Calcutta Municipal Loans Bill will aim chiefly at remedying defects in the constitution of a Sinking Fund prescribed by the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1899.

In connection with Sanitary Reform, to which much attention has lately been given by Government, steps are being taken to train a Sanitary Service to assist Municipal Commissioners, and Government will bring forward a Bill enabling them to insist on the employment of Sanitary Officers in mufassal municipalities.

I hope a Bill may be brought in during the present session to consolidate the law relating to the administration of the Port of Chittagong.

Another measure will be a Bill to deal with such evils as cotton-gambling. I want to correct a misapprehension which I fear exists in the public mind. Some newspapers have attributed blame to the Imperial Government, and even to the Viceroy, for delay in issuing the Ordinance for the suppression of cotton-gambling. I wish to state clearly and publicly that neither the Viceroy nor the Government of India was in any way responsible for that delay, and that it is on me that the blame ought to fall. Had I asked sooner than I did for the promulgation of an Ordinance, I have no doubt the Government of India would willingly have granted my request. I did not ask for an Ordinance; and perhaps you may think me the more blameworthy in that I thought of asking for one, but deliberately refrained. The legal proceedings, which the Bengal Government took under the present Gambling Act, led to a diminution of the evil but only for a time. After these measures proved unsuccessful, I hoped that vigilant action by the Police and prosecutions for obstruction might keep the evil under sufficient control until the new Legislative Council could deal with it by ordinary legislation.

The promulgation of an Ordinance is a very exceptional procedure, and one which I think should only be followed in the last resort. I hoped that this Council might be constituted sufficiently soon to suppress the evil of cotton-gambling by ordinary legislation, but in this hope I was wrong, and, when I saw that I was, I asked for an Ordinance and I got it. As you know an Ordinance can only remain in force for six months; I sincerely hope we may pass a Bill in the present session which will suppress not only cotton-gambling, but other abuses of a similar nature.

I must say something now about the place in which we are met. The Legislative Council of the Governor General used to meet in this room. The Members of my Council are fewer in number than those of the Governor General's Council. The Governor General's Council only occupied the rooms on this floor. I propose to put two other floors at your disposal, but I fear that, in spite of this, the accommodation—both for Hon'ble Members and certainly for the public—may prove at best somewhat inconvenient. I have arranged a common room and a library for you on the ground floor. A Committee room adjoins this Council Chamber and rooms will be provided upstairs for the use of Members of the Executive Council and for Secretaries to Government, where these officers may attend to their ordinary duties at times when their presence in Council is unnecessary. All rooms will be furnished with division bells, and I hope these arrangements may conduce somewhat to your general comfort and convenience, but they do not provide for any improvement in the accommodation in the Chamber itself. After the present session has run on for a little, you and I will be better able to judge what further improvement is desirable. When we know this we can consider whether structural alterations are needed or are possible; and I shall do all I can to meet your wishes. Whatever other alterations are necessary, we ought, I think (if it can be done without undue expense), to provide a separate entrance to this wing and perhaps to put in a lift to convey Members and the public to the Council Chamber. These conveniences would, I am sure, be greatly appreciated, and I think they could be secured without much difficulty.

Before I sit down, gentlemen, I would remind the non-official Members that, after this meeting, you will elect your representatives in the Finance Committee."

RESOLUTION ON MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji moved the following Resolution :—

This Council desires to place on record its feeling of horror and detestation at the wicked attempt made on the lives of Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Hardinge at Delhi, and its sense of profound thankfulness at their providential escape; and begs to offer its respectful sympathy to Their Excellencies, and earnestly hopes that His Excellency may speedily recover and resume his exalted duties.

He said :—"My Lord, with Your Excellency's permission, for which I am truly thankful, I have the honour to move the above resolution which stands in my name.

My Lord, it is not necessary that I should detain this Council at any considerable length in order to commend this resolution to their unanimous and, I may add, enthusiastic acceptance. It seems to me, my Lord, that it is not enough that we as individual members of this Council should say what we feel about this attempt, this wicked attempt on the lives of Their Excellencies, but that we should embody the sense—the collective sense—of this Council in a definite and formal resolution. I find that this procedure has been adopted in other Legislative Councils in India and, though we may be among the last, I am sure we are not among the least in the intensity of the emotions which the Delhi outrage has awakened in our hearts. My Lord, our feelings (and I take it that it is the feeling of the country) has been expressed in a hundred different ways—in our public meetings, in the utterances of our Press, in the records of our public bodies. Our feeling is one of horror and detestation at the murderous attack made upon Their Excellencies, and of profound thankfulness at their providential escape. Our sense of indignation is intensified by the reflection that the arm of the assassin should have been uplifted against one of the most illustrious of Indian Viceroys—a Viceroy who, by his private work and public virtues, has enthroned himself in the hearts of the people of India. Whatever differences of opinion there may exist with regard to the measures of Government—and such differences there must be in a community that is not stagnant—for a moment, my Lord, the voice of comment, the voice of criticism is hushed, and all sections of our somewhat heterogeneous community are united by a common sentiment and a common solicitude to render a tribute of our admiration and gratitude to the illustrious ruler who has always placed the claims of duty above all personal considerations.

My Lord, if ours was not a British Government and if Lord Hardinge had not been permeated with the spirit of British administration and the immemorial traditions of British rule in India, I apprehend there would have been an interruption and perhaps even a set-back on that course of beneficent policy which has received an added impulse since the visit of His Imperial Majesty to this country. But God be thanked that it is not to be. Lord Hardinge's affection for the people of India remains unchanged and unchangeable. Our welfare is the dominating thought of his mind. To the royal message of hope His Excellency has superadded a message of faith. He has told us that he has faith in the people of India in the most stirring words ever uttered by a minister or statesman in his moments of inspiration. My Lord, if sorrow and sympathy shared is sorrow and sympathy relieved, I may say this that there has been evoked throughout the length and breadth of this wide continent an outburst of respectful sympathy so genuine, so deep, so moving in its solicitude for the recovery of the Viceroy, that I confess that I have never witnessed the like of it in the whole course of my public life. The heart of the great Indian nation has been stirred to its depths, and from our temples and our mosques, and from the banks of our sacred rivers, the voices of thousands and tens of thousands of devout worshippers are uplifted in daily prayer to the footsteps of the Throne of the Supreme that his Excellency may speedily recover and resume those exalted duties, in the performance of which he has won, in an unstinted measure, the love, the confidence, the gratitude and the admiration of the people of India.

One more word, my Lord, and I have done. I think we should not be doing justice to ourselves if we did not convey this expression of our gratitude to Your Excellency for the kind and cordial welcome which you have extended to us. My Lord, this is more or less an historical occasion. This is the first meeting of the first Legislative Council of re-united Bengal—now raised to the status of a Presidency Government under a ruler, who for the short time that he has been here, has won the esteem of the people committed to his care. We realize the gravity of our obligations and I am sure that each one of us, according to his light, will realize to the full the share of that responsibility. We realize also that a new era has dawned since the visit of His Imperial Majesty—an era in which I trust criticism is to be supplemented by co-operation. My Lord, we are not here to criticise but to assist the Government in the difficult task of administration. Undoubtedly in a deliberative assembly like ours there must be some measure of criticism; but whatever criticism may be offered, it will be not with a view to embarrass but to help the Government. Co-operation and not criticism will be our dominating note. This I can say is the sense of the country and of the mandate with which we have been charged by the constitutencies who have returned us here.

With these few words, my Lord, I beg to move the resolution that stands in my name."

The Hon'ble MR. NORMAN McLEOD said :—

YOUR EXCELLENCY—On behalf of the European Mercantile Community of Bengal, I rise to support the Resolution which is now before us and to express our utter abhorrence at the dastardly attempt on the life of our Viceroy, and our gratitude to the Almighty for having preserved his life and that of Lady Hardinge, who shared his danger. Some of us may not agree with Lord Hardinge in all things; but that in no way diminishes our admiration for his marked ability, our respect for the conscientious discharge of his duty and of our continued wish for his personal welfare. It is our proud reflection that His Excellency and Lady Hardinge, under the most trying circumstances, displayed the most marked bravery and fully sustained the best traditions of the English race. I am diffident in adding much to what has already been said, but I cannot (in justice to our duties as responsible citizens of this important Empire) but draw the serious attention of my Hon'ble colleagues to a speech made by the Hon'ble Mr. Marshall Reid to a similar resolution at the opening meeting of the Bombay Council. It is reported in page 146 of Capital of the 15th instant. I fully endorse what he has said, which expresses the feelings of every right-minded man in India. It is beyond the bounds of belief that the Delhi and similar outrages could take place unnoticed in the midst of a crowd, and yet no one has come forward to denounce the miscreant. We hear all round of the sins of the Police—a deserving but much-maligned body—but not a word of the sins of the people, and I have read and heard of sympathy unveiledly expressed for the most cold-blooded murders. As long as this attitude of mind exists, as long as the Indian populace display apathy, how can any one expect a reasonable man to admit the possibility of giving an equal voice to such people in the administration of this country—people who so little understand what their duties and responsibilities are as loyal citizens?

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"MY LORD, as a loyal citizen, as a representative of the landholders of Bengal, on behalf of myself and my constituency and other brother zamindars in this Council, I deem it my sacred duty to support the resolution that has been moved by my Hon'ble friend to the left. For the dastardly attempt on the lives of Their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Hardinge, has moved the heart of everyone in India, and has once more brought into prominence the question of how to deal with anarchism in this land. Let us hope that this incident may be a singular one and that the future may be bright again as the past was until this unfortunate incident occurred. But I am sure, my Lord, that all of us present here (and I speak on behalf of the non-official Indians present in this Council to-day) will agree with me in thinking that whilst we strongly deprecate the attempt on the life of the Viceroy, whilst we hope that the future may be bright again, we know that, in case anarchism makes another headway again in India, not merely an expression of sympathy, but co-operation, not merely words but actions will be necessary to eradicate the evil from the country and, as my Hon'ble friend to the left has already said, the keynote of the new Council, we hope, will be co-operation. So we trust that Government and the Council will co-operate if such a contingency arises. With these few words, my Lord, I support the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID, NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR said :—

"MY LORD,—On behalf of the Muhammadan community, I beg to associate myself whole-heartedly with what has fallen from the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji in condemnation of the horrible act of sacrilege which has sent a thrill of horror throughout the length and breadth of this Peninsula. We, Muhammadans, are enjoined by the tenets of our faith to regard a Sovereign as the shadow of God, and the person of our Sovereign's representative in India is, in the eyes of all true Mussalmans, clothed with a sanctity which only falls short of the Divine. Even those whose conduct has not always been free from the stain of disloyalty have, on this regrettable occasion, been horror-struck with the heinousness of the crime. It now remains for us to see that our condemnation may be translated into action, and our best efforts directed to co-operate with the Government in bringing the offenders to justice, and to unravel the meshes of a conspiracy which could give birth to so dastardly a crime.

Those who have known the Indian Mussalmans and are aware of their staunch loyalty and deep devotion to the Throne can easily appreciate the feelings of abhorrence with which the entire Mussalman community regard this abominable crime.

I do not wish to dilate any longer on so regrettable a topic, and will conclude by only adding that, in my opinion, no words can be too strong to condemn a crime which has disgraced the entire country before the eyes of the whole world. Our consolation is that, even in this hour of our deep regret and sorrow, we can rejoice that Providence in its mercy has so miraculously saved the lives of Their Excellencies, and we fervently pray that the same Almighty Providence may guard Their Excellencies for years to come."

The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI said :—

"MY LORD,—I desire to associate myself, on my own behalf and in the name of the people of the Rajshahi Division, with the observations which my Hon'ble colleagues, who have preceded me, have made with regard to the dastardly and execrable outrage committed upon Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Hardinge at Delhi during their State Entry into that historic and Imperial City. Your Excellency and my Hon'ble colleagues, who have spoken before me, have so aptly expressed the unspeakable horror, indignation and exasperation of the people of the whole Province of Bengal that I find it difficult to say anything more to suitably describe our feelings on the matter. As the whole continent of India was horrified and shocked at the news of this sacrilegious crime, so did it equally rejoice to learn that, while Her Excellency Lady Hardinge was entirely untouched by the vile hands of the assassin, the wounds inflicted upon the Viceroy were not of an alarming nature ; and it is with unbounded thankfulness and a profound sense of relief that we now learn that His Excellency is making a steady and sure progress towards recovery. I feel quite sure that the wish which now dominates all minds is that the miserable and detestable creature or creatures who attempted the life of the direct Representative of our most august and devotedly-loved Sovereign and a Representative who himself has so completely conquered the hearts of His Majesty's loyal Indian subjects, I say that such despicable and cowardly assassins may be speedily traced and brought to stern justice. It is not alone the true sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the Crown and personal attachment to Lord Hardinge that lie at the bottom of our deep indignation and exasperation provoked by the dastardly deed. A true Indian, my Lord, who has a drop of love in his heart for his own country and a grain of patriotism in him, must feel deeply stirred and incensed at this vile and abominable attempt to put so black a stain upon the fair fame of his Motherland. That being so, I feel certain that the Government will receive, to the fullest measure, the whole-hearted co-operation of every section of the population and the unstinted support of every class and community, educated or otherwise, in the heavy and strenuous task of putting down, with a firm hand, anarchical outbreaks and seditious propagandism. My Lord, I cannot conclude without expressing, on behalf of myself and the people whom I have the honour to represent in this Council, our great admiration and respect which the sublime courage and cool composure of Her Excellency Lady Hardinge and the absolute sang-froid of Lord Hardinge, under those terrible circumstances, have won for themselves, and it is not too much to say that their conduct would be regarded as an example of magnificent courage, handsome nobility of mind and true Christian forbearance in every part of the civilised world; and would even go down to posterity. Permit me, my Lord, to express, on behalf of myself, my sense of pride and great pleasure at being able to sit in this Council as a representative of the people of the Rajshahi Division—a Council which is not only for the first time in its history presided over by a Governor with a distinguished British and Colonial career, but a ruler who has already given abundant indications of his deep sympathy and affection for the people placed under his rule and whose liberal and large-minded policy has made his name a household word both in the towns and hamlets of Bengal."

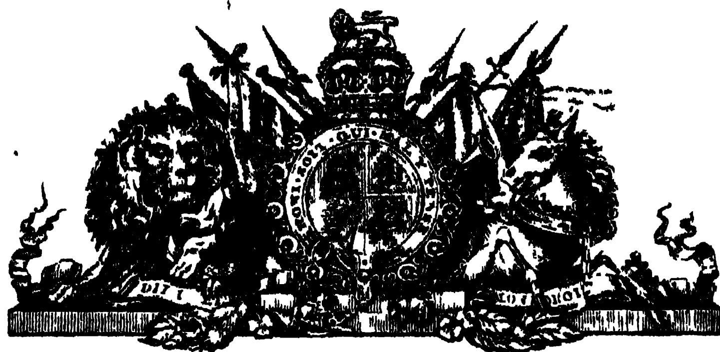
His Excellency, in putting the Resolution to the Council, said :—

"I feel so certain that this commands the unanimous assent not merely of every member of this Council but of all the people whom you represent, that I depart from the customary form in putting it before you and merely ask those who are in favour of it to say aye."

The motion was unanimously agreed to.



The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 22nd January, 1913, at 11 A.M.

No. 250M.—The 27th January 1913.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), His Excellency the Governor in Council makes the following rules, subject to which the Commissioners of the Tollygunge Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to private houses within the Municipality for domestic purposes only:—

Rules.

1. So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a masonry building paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such building when such annual value is not less than Rs. 200, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such building for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions.

2. The owner or occupier of any masonry building requiring water to be laid on to such building for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied free of cost at the Municipal office.

3. A fee of Rs. 2 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each building connection before any work is commenced; such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

4. Each building must have a separate connection, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one building to another shall not be permitted.

5. The owner or occupier of the building in respect of which the connection is required must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water-mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

6. (1) The work required may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the building in respect of which the work is required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(2) The work must be done under the supervision of an officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no connection must be made with the municipal water-main except at such time as may be appointed, and in such position as may be selected, by an authorised Municipal officer.

7. A building connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings :—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe ;

(b) a galvanised iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter ;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box ;

(d) a meter ;

(e) service pipes from the stop-cock to the taps ; and

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners, and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the Municipality before being fixed.

(3) If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fitting of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fitting for the approval of the Chairman, and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by the Chairman, be stamped, and samples thereof may be purchased and placed among the standard fittings.

9. The size of the ferrule referred to in clause (a) of rule 7 shall be decided by the Commissioners, but its diameter shall not differ from that of the communication-pipe referred to in clause (b) of that rule by more than ¼ inch.

10. (1) The diamater of the communication-pipe shall be determined with regard to the average pressure in the main supply-pipe at the point nearest the building for which a connection is required, and to the quantity of water to be supplied.

(2) The diameter of the communication-pipe shall be such that it will be capable of delivering the estimated daily supply in six hours.

(3) The building connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 100 feet, and no water shall be supplied until this test has been applied by the Commissioners.

11. (1) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock having the same waterway as such pipe shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the building to be supplied.

(2) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast-iron surface cover-box so designed that it can be locked, and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(3) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the building may be regulated thereby.

12. (1) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined.

(2) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a cast-iron surface-box of approved pattern.

(3) Subject to the provisions of rule 13, no meter must be touched or interfered with in any way except with the permission of the Chairman.

13. The Commissioners shall depute an authorized person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least 24 hours before the reading is recorded.

14. (1) Every owner or occupier of any building in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules shall be entitled to a supply of 3,000 gallons of water per quarter for each rupee paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such building.

(2) For all water in excess of the 3,000 gallons allowed under sub-rule (1) such owner or occupier shall be charged quarterly as follows :—

	Per 1,000 gallons
	Rs.	A.
(a) For any excess quantity of water not exceeding 1,500 gallons	0	5
(b) For any excess quantity of water exceeding 1,500 gallons, but not exceeding 3,000 gallons ...	0	8
(c) For any excess quantity of water exceeding 3,000 gallons, but not exceeding 6,000 gallons ...	0	12
(d) For any excess quantity of water exceeding 6,000 gallons	1	0

15. If the owner or occupier of any building which is supplied with water under these rules shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with these rules for a space of fourteen days after he has been served with a notice of demand for the same, the Commissioners may, at any time after the expiration of that period, and without further notice, disconnect any pipe forming part of the connection made in respect of such building, and may recover the cost of disconnecting such pipe from such owner or occupier :

Provided that the disconnection of such pipe shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

16. (1) Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as screw-down. Every tap shall be at least three feet above the road level.

(2) The number of taps in a building shall be fixed in accordance with the annual valuation of such building as follows:—

NOTIFICATION.

IN accordance with the directions contained in paragraph 3 of the Government of India, Home Department Resolution Nos. 731-743, dated the 1st September 1908, which is republished below, two scholarships for the scientific study of Sanskrit in Europe will be awarded in the year 1913. The application of any candidates from Bengal should be submitted with the required particulars to the undersigned not later than the 26th of February 1913. No candidate will be considered who is not possessed of high qualifications and who is not a native of Bengal.

Application forms may be had from the Personal Assistant to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

G. W. KÜCHLER,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 7th January 1913.

Nos. 731-743, dated Simla, the 1st September 1908.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

THE Government of India have for some time past had under their consideration the question of encouraging the scientific study of Sanskrit and Arabic by natives of India. They believe that great advantage will result from aiding students to acquire the critical and scientific methods of western scholarship, by studying the classics under European professors and by acquiring a knowledge of French and German which is indispensable for making full use of the researches of European Orientalists.

2. They have accordingly decided, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, to allot for the present four scholarships tenable in Europe—three for the study of Sanskrit and one for the study of Arabic. Not more than two will be awarded annually. The scholarships will be open to well-qualified students with a genuine taste for oriental studies and to gentlemen employed as professors of Sanskrit and Arabic in India. The value of each scholarship will be £150 a year, and it will be tenable for two years. The Secretary of State will decide the courses of study of each scholarship-holder and the special conditions to be observed, if necessary, by students who elect to study in continental Europe rather than in England. A scholarship-holder will be provided with a free second-class passage to Europe, and also with a return passage if he completes the full period of residence or is compelled by sickness to return within that period. He will be required for disciplinary purposes to conform to such rules as the Secretary of State may make in this behalf.

3. In the first year one scholarship will be awarded for Sanskrit and one for Arabic. In the following year two scholarships for Sanskrit only will be awarded. Each Local Government or Administration is invited to submit, during the current financial year, the name of one candidate for a Sanskrit and one for an Arabic scholarship, and in the following year the names of two candidates for a Sanskrit scholarship, this procedure being followed in alternative years. It is requested that the names of the candidates may be accompanied by a full description of their qualifications, and with the views and recommendations of the Local Government thereon. The power of selection will rest with the Government of India, who will award the scholarships to those whom they may consider best fitted to hold them. Local Governments and Administrations are requested to submit their recommendations so as to reach the Government of India by the 31st March of each year at latest. Those for the current year should be sent in as soon as possible.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to the Government of Bengal for information and guidance.

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented to that Council, and Bills published before introduction in that Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bills were introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 22nd January, 1913, and are hereby published for information, together with their Statements of Objects and Reasons:—

THE BENGAL BOARD OF REVENUE BILL, 1913.

to alter the constitution of the Board of Revenue for Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to alter the constitution of the Board of Revenue for Bengal;

And whereas the sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to the passing of this Act; 55 & 56 Vict., c. 14.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Board of Revenue Act, 1913.

Designation of Board. 2. The Board of Revenue for the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal shall be called the Board of Revenue for Bengal. [Cf. Act XLIV of 1850, s. 3.]

Number of Members of Board. 3. The said Board shall ordinarily consist of one Member only, to be appointed by the Local Government by notification in the local official Gazette: [Cf. Ben. Reg. III of 1822, s. 4 (1).]

Provided that the Local Government may at any time, by like notification, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, appoint a temporary additional Member.

Powers and duties of additional Member. 4. An additional Member of the Board of Revenue appointed under the proviso to section 3 shall exercise and perform such powers and duties of the Board as the Local Government may direct [Cf. Ben. Reg. III of 1822, s. 5 (1).]

Construction of references to former Boards. 5. All references in any enactment to— [Cf. Act XLIV of 1850, s. 2.]

(a) the Board of Revenue as constituted under the Bengal Board of Revenue Regulation, 1822, and under clause First of section 4 of the Bengal Revenue Commissioners Regulation, 1829, or III of 1822. I of 1829.

(b) the Board whose functions were transferred to the said Board of Revenue by the Bengal Board of Revenue Act, 1850, XLIV of 1850.

shall be construed as references to the Board as re-constituted by or under this Act.

Review of orders by Board. 6. Any person considering himself aggrieved by any order of the Board of Revenue may apply to the Board, within three months from the date of the order, for a review of the same; and, if the Board considers there are sufficient reasons for so doing, it may review the order and pass such further order as it thinks fit. [Cf. Ben. Reg. III of 1822, s. 5 (6); Act V of 1908, s. 114.]

Repeal. 7 The enactments specified in the Schedule are hereby repealed, to the extent mentioned in the fourth column thereof

THE SCHEDULE.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

(See section 7.)

1	2	3	4
Year.	No.	Short title.	Extent of repeal.
		Bengal Regulation.
1822	III	The Bengal Board of Revenue Regulation, 1822.	So much as is unrepealed.
		Acts of the Governor General of India in Council.
1850	XLIV	The Bengal Board of Revenue Act, 1850.	So much as is unrepealed.
1874	XV	The Laws Local Extent Act, 1874.	So much of the fourth Schedule as relates to Bengal Regulation III of 1822 and Act XLIV of 1850.
1891	XII	The Amending Act, 1891 ...	So much of the second Schedule as relates to Bengal Regulation III of 1822.
1903	I	The Repealing and Amending Act, 1903.	So much of the second Schedule as relates to Bengal Regulation III of 1822.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to reduce the number of permanent Members of the Bengal Board of Revenue from two to one. The clauses of the Bill are explained in the subjoined notes

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 2.—The present title of the Board was conferred by Act XLIV of 1850, section 3, and is "The Board of Revenue for the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal." It is proposed to introduce a shorter name, namely, "The Board of Revenue for Bengal".

2 Clause 3.—There were for many years two Members of the Bengal Board of Revenue. In connection with the establishment of an Executive Council for Bengal, the number of Members of the Board was temporarily reduced to one, and clause 3 of the Bill continues that arrangement.

3. Power is however given to appoint a temporary additional Member, with the sanction of the Government of India, whenever it may be necessary to do so. Such an appointment may become necessary in order (a) to prevent congestion of work resulting from the reduction in the number of the Members, or (b) to relieve the permanent Member of the necessity of hearing appeals against orders made by himself as Commissioner of a Division.

4. Clause 4 empowers the Local Government to prescribe the powers and duties of any additional Member who may be appointed.

5. Clause 5 declares that references in enactments to the existing Board of Revenue and to a former Board shall be construed as references to the Board as re-constituted by or under the Bill.

6. Clause 6 authorizes applications to the Board for review of its orders. It is based on clause sixth of section 5 of the Bengal Board of Revenue Regulation, 1822 (III of 1822), and section 114 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

7. Clause 7 repeals existing enactments which will be superseded by the Bill.

(2) Nothing in this section shall bar a suit to obtain a declaration that the name of any purchaser certified as aforesaid was inserted in the certificate fraudulently or without the consent of the real purchaser, or interfere with the right of a third person to proceed against that property, though ostensibly sold to the certified purchaser, on the ground that it is liable to satisfy a claim of such third person against the real owner.

I, O. XXI, r. 90; 1895, s. 20.]

(2) The Certificate-officer shall fix a day for investigating the matter, and shall summon the party against whom the application is made to appear and answer the same. [New.]

Procedure on such application.

27. (1) If the Certificate-officer is satisfied that the resistance or obstruction was occasioned without any just cause by the certificate-debtor or by some other person at his instigation, he shall direct that the applicant be put into possession of the property; and, if the applicant is still resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession, the Certificate-officer may also, at the instance of the applicant, order the certificate-debtor, or any person acting at his instigation, to be detained in the civil prison for a term which may extend to thirty days. [Cf. 1908, s. 74.]

(Bengal Public Demands Recovery Bill, 1913.—Schedule II.—Rules.—Rules 52—60.)

Bid of co-sharer to have preference.

52. Where the property sold is a share of undivided immovable property, and two or more persons, of whom one is a co-sharer, respectively bid the same sum for such property or for any lot, the bid shall be deemed to be the bid of the co-sharer. [1908, Sch. I, Order XXI, r. 88.]

Return of purchase-money in certain cases.

53. Where a sale of immovable property is set aside, any money paid or deposited by the purchaser on account of the purchase, together with the penalty (if any) referred to in clause (b) of section 21, shall be paid to the purchaser. [1895, s. 21(2). Cf. 1908, Sch. I, Order XXI, r. 93.]

Certificate to purchaser.

54. (1) Where a sale of immovable property has become absolute, the Certificate-officer shall grant a certificate specifying the property sold and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser. [1908, Sch. I, Order XXI, r. 94.]

(2) Such certificate shall bear date the day on which the sale became absolute.

Delivery of property in occupancy of certificate-debtor.

55. Where the immovable property sold is in the occupancy of the certificate-debtor, or of some person on his behalf, or of some person claiming under a title created by the certificate-debtor subsequently to the service of the notice issued under section 7, and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule 54, the Certificate-officer shall, on the application of the purchaser, order delivery to be made by putting such purchaser, or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, in possession of the property, and, if need be, by removing any person who refuses to vacate the same. [1908, Sch. I, Order XXI, r. 95.]

Delivery of property in occupancy of tenant or other person.

56. Where the property sold is in the occupancy of a tenant or other person entitled to occupy the same, and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule 54, the Certificate-officer shall, on the application of the purchaser, order delivery to be made by affixing a copy of the certificate of sale in some conspicuous place on the property, and proclaiming to the occupant by beat of drum or other customary mode, at some convenient place, that the interest of the certificate-debtor has been transferred to the purchaser. [1908, Sch. I, Order XXI, r. 96.]

Arrest and detention.

Discretionary power to permit certificate debtor to show cause against detention in prison.

57. (1) The Certificate-officer may, before issuing a warrant for the arrest of the certificate-debtor, issue a notice calling upon him to appear before the Certificate-officer, on a day to be specified in the notice, and show cause why he should not be committed to the civil prison. [1908, Sch. I, Order XXI, r. 37.]

(2) Where appearance is not made in obedience to the notice, the Certificate-officer may issue a warrant for the arrest of the certificate-debtor.

Subsistence allowance.

58 (1) When a certificate has been signed on a requisition made under section 5, no certificate-debtor shall be arrested in execution of the certificate unless and until the certificate-holder pays into Court such sum as the Certificate-officer thinks sufficient for the subsistence of the certificate-debtor from the time of his arrest until he can be brought before the Certificate-officer. [1908, Sch. I, Order, XXI, r. 39.]

(2) When a certificate-debtor is committed to the civil prison in execution of a certificate, the Certificate-officer shall fix for his subsistence such monthly allowance as he may be entitled to according to the scale fixed by the Local Government for the subsistence of arrested judgment-debtors, or, where no such scale has been fixed, as the Certificate-officer considers sufficient with reference to the class to which the certificate-debtor belongs.

(3) The monthly allowance fixed by the Certificate-officer shall be supplied, by the person upon whose requisition the certificate was signed, by monthly payments in advance before the first day of each month.

(4) The first payment shall be made to the Certificate-officer for such portion of the current month as remains unexpired before the certificate-debtor is committed to the civil prison; and the subsequent payments (if any) shall be made to the officer in charge of the civil prison.

(5) Sums disbursed by the certificate-holder for the subsistence of the certificate-debtor in the civil prison shall be deemed to be costs in the proceeding :

Provided that the certificate-debtor shall not be detained in the civil prison or arrested on account of any sum so disbursed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE objects of this Bill are—

(1) to remove doubts as to the interpretation of certain provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895 (Bengal Act I of 1895);

(2) to remedy certain anomalies which have come to notice in the administration of that Act, and to add certain necessary provisions; and

(3) to consolidate the law and render the Act self-contained and readily intelligible.

II. The Bill is the outcome of certain recommendations made by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rampini (now Sir Robert Fulton). He pointed out that under the Act of 1895 it was impossible to say whether or not, after a sale of immovable property had been held in execution of a certificate, the judgment-debtor could sue in the Civil Court to have the sale set aside upon the ground of irregularity. The rulings of the High Court upon this important point were numerous and conflicting. He also pointed out that under the present Act, as interpreted by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court (Purna Chandra Chattopadhay v. Deno Bandhu Mukhopadhay),* a purchaser of immovable property at a sale in execution of a certificate might have his title to the property attacked twelve years later by a suit instituted on the ground that the judgment-debtor had not before the sale been served with notice of the demand. It was obvious that, if such were to continue to be the law, bidders would be very slow to come forward at such sales, low prices would be obtained, and injustice would result.

* I. L. R., 34 Calc., 811.

III. The anomalies and difficulties referred to by Mr. Justice Rampini resulted from the attempt in the Act of 1895 to make the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure applicable by means of short cross-references. Such a phrase as "The certificate shall have to all intents and purposes the effect of a final decree of a Civil Court" is used [section 6 (3)]; or such a phrase as "In enforcing and executing a certificate . . . all the duties, powers and authorities by the Code of Civil Procedure imposed or conferred on the Court shall be exercised by the Certificate-officer" [section 22 (1)]. It is this method of cross-reference which is responsible for the unforeseen anomalies and insoluble problems of interpretation which are found in the present Act. In this Bill the Act has therefore been redrafted so as to make it clearly intelligible in the Act itself what a Certificate-officer can or can not do by way of execution, on what ground he may set aside sales, to what extent his orders are protected from collateral attack by suit. Several points of this kind were before obscure.

IV. The desirability of a revision of this kind has been accentuated by the fact that the Code of Civil Procedure has recently been amended, and now largely consists of rules which may be altered from time to time by a Committee presided over by the Chief Justice, without reference to the Legislative Council. If these alterations of practice in the Civil Courts be (as they may be) many and frequent, Certificate-officers would feel difficulty in following them, and confusion might result. It is therefore no longer suitable to require that every detail of procedure adopted from time to time by the Civil Courts shall necessarily be followed by the Certificate-officer.

V. For all the reasons above stated, the Bill has been drafted to provide in itself a complete procedure of execution, the provisions being intelligible without reference to the Code of Civil Procedure.

VI. Under the present Act, when a tenure or holding is sold in execution of a certificate for arrears of rent, it is only the right title and interest of the judgment-debtor that passes, and not the tenure or holding itself as in the case of a sale in execution of a decree for rent under the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. The Government as landlord of a khas mahal and a Court of Wards Estate recovering rent under the certificate procedure is thus worse off than an ordinary landlord. The Bill removes this anomaly and applies the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act to sales in execution of certificates for rent.

VII. The opportunity has been taken to rearrange the provisions of the Act, grouping together in separate parts (in Part II) the provisions relating to the filing of certificates and the hearing of objections; (in Part III) those relating to the execution of certificates and the setting aside of sales; and (in Part IV) those relating to the power of Civil Courts to interfere.

VIII. Some of the provisions of the Bill are explained in detail in the subjoined Notes on Clauses, and tables are annexed showing where provisions of the Act of 1895 and the present Code of Civil Procedure are reproduced in the Bill.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 3 (1) and (2).—The expressions "certificate-debtor" and "certificate-holder" have been introduced for the sake of brevity. They take the place of the declarations in sections 6 (1) and 8 of Bengal Act I of 1895 that certain persons shall be deemed to be the "judgment-debtor" and the "decree-holder", respectively, for the purpose of the execution of certificates.

2. Clause 3 (3).—Section 4 (a) of Bengal Act I of 1895 declares that "Certificate-officer" means a "District Collector," leaving the Collector of Calcutta out of account.

3. Clause 3 (4), (5) and (7).—Sub-clauses (4), (5) and (7) of clause 3 are new, being taken from the new Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908).

4. Clause 3 (6).—It has been thought desirable to transfer the list of public demands recoverable under the Act from the body of the Act to a Schedule, and for the sake of brevity the word "public demand" has been defined as meaning any arrear mentioned or referred to in the Schedule.

5. Clauses 4, 5 and 6.—It seems to be unnecessary to retain the elaborate distinction made in the Act of 1895 between Certificates in Form I and Certificates in Form II. This distinction has therefore been abandoned.

6 Clause 8 reproduces section 10 (2) of the Act of 1895, with an addition made for the purpose of rendering that provision more effective.

7. Clauses 9 and 10 reproduce sections 12 and 13 of the Act of 1895; certain portions of those sections, however, being relegated to the Miscellaneous portion of the Bill (Part VI) or to rules contained in Schedule II.

8. Clause 13 reproduces part of section 19 (1) of the Act of 1895, with an alteration of the wording made in order to avoid any suggestion that the jurisdiction of the Certificate-officer rests on the service of the notice.

9. Clause 14 recites the powers conferred on a Certificate-officer in order to enable him to procure execution, the method of cross-reference to the Code of Civil Procedure resorted to in section 19 of the Act of 1895 being abandoned.

10. Clause 15.—In some districts such as Khulna and Jessore the estates on the revenue roll of one district are situated in fact within the ambit of another. It will be convenient and will forestall legal defficulties if the Certificate-officer is empowered to sell estates appertaining to the revenue roll of the district to which he belongs.

11. Clause 19 (3) read with rules 30 to 32 and 43 to 45, and 47 in Schedule II, provides that when a tenure or holding is sold in execution of a certificate for arrears of rent, the landlord (including the Government) shall have the same privileges as he would have had if he had sued for the rent under the Tenancy Act in force in the area in which the tenure or holding is situated.

12. Clause 21.—The drafting of section 21 of the Act of 1895 has been improved, and the minimum penalty has been raised from one to three rupees.

13. Clause 22 reproduces the corresponding provision in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Schedule I, Order XXI, rule 90), but omits any express mention of fraud. It is thought undesirable to entrust Certificate-officers with the decision of questions of fraud, except in cases in which there has been some actual irregularity.

14. Clause 29.—The provisions in the Act of 1895 on the subject of insolvency are very obscure [section 22 (3)]. They have been omitted altogether from clause 29 of the Bill.

15. Clause 35 is designed for the settlement of the questions of law involved in a suit to set aside a certificate sale on the ground that the notice of demand was not served. The clause determines that the sale shall not be held to be void upon the ground that no notice was served. It provides, however, that a suit upon such a ground to set aside the sale may be brought within a year from the date upon which delivery of possession is given to the purchaser. A suit brought after that date would, under the clause, be barred by limitation.

16. Clause 36 finally settles that all matters of dispute relating to the making, execution, discharge or satisfaction of the certificate shall be determined by the Certificate-officer The clause bars the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in such matters, except on the ground of fraud; the law on this point is, at present, very obscure.

17. Clauses 37 and 38 introduce a set of rules and empower the Board of Revenue to make rules in minor matters: in particular, the forms of notice are removed from the body of the Act and are to be provided for by rule. The Board of Revenue may, under clause 38, make such rules as may from time to time seem desirable to ensure the proper service of notices.

18. Clause 42 requires the Certificate-officer to cancel certificates in certain cases and empowers him to do so when the person upon whose requisition the certificate is signed is not reasonably diligent.

19. Clause 54 settles the question of limitation, and assimilates the law of limitation in certificate cases to the law governing suits for rent under the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885

20. Clause 57 introduces new provisions, authorizing the signing of documents by ministerial officers, in order to afford relief to Certificate-officers in the discharge of clerical functions.

21. Clause 58 introduces a new section into the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in place of the existing section authorizing the recovery of rent under the certificate procedure. The revision of the existing section is necessary in order to bring it into conformity with the present Bill.

22. Schedule I.—See note on clause 3 (6), ante.

23. Schedule II.—The rules in this Schedule follow, in general, the provisions of the Act of 1895 and those of the new Code of Civil Procedure. Certain powers conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure on Civil Courts have been omitted. Thus, under the Bill, as at present drafted, a Certificate-officer will not be able—

(a) to appoint a receiver for purposes of execution [Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, section 51 (d)];

(b) to examine a certificate-debtor as to his property (Idem, 1st Schedule, Order XXI, rule 41); or to amend section 14 of the Calcutta Burial Boards Act, 1889. Ben. Act IV of 1889.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend section 14 of the Calcutta Burial Boards Act, 1889; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Burial Boards (Amendment) Act, 1913.

Amendment of section 14 of Bengal Act IV of 1889.

2. For section 14 of the Calcutta Burial Boards Act, 1889, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

Appointment of Burial Board for any Community.

"14. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint a Burial Board for Calcutta, for any community other than the Christian and Muhammadan communities. [Cf. Ben. Act IV of 1889, ss. 3, 4 (1) and 5.]

(2) Every such Board shall consist of—

(a) the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta,

(b) the Health Officer of the Corporation of Calcutta,

(c) an officer of the Public Works Department to be nominated from time to time by the Local Government, and (d) not less than three nor more than six members of the community concerned, to be nominated from time to time by the Local Government.

(3) The Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta shall be the Chairman of every such Board.

Transfer of burial-grounds.

"14A. The Local Government may place under the superintendence, management or control of the Burial Board appointed for any community under section 14— [Cf. Ben. Act IV of 1889, s. 14.]

(a) any portion of a public Muhammadan burial-ground which is excluded from the control of the Muhammadan Burial Board by the proviso to section 6, and which is used for the interment of persons belonging to such community, and

(b) any other public burial-ground, or portion thereof, which is used for the interment of persons belonging to such community.

Application of sections 8 to 13 to Boards appointed under section 14

"14B. Sections 8 to 13 shall apply mutatis mutandis to all Burial Boards appointed under section 14 and to burial-grounds under the superintendence, management or control of such Boards, as well as to the Muhammadan Burial Board and Muhammadan burial-grounds." [Cf. Ben. Act IV of 1889, ss. 8 to 10 and 14.]

Repeal of the Second Schedule to Bengal Act IV of 1889.

3. The Second Schedule to the Calcutta Burial Boards Act, 1889, is hereby repealed. Ben Act IV of 1889.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Burial Boards provisions on the Bengal Statute book at present are—

(1) for Christians—Bengal Act V of 1881 (the Calcutta Burial Boards Act, 1881),

(2) for Muhammadans—Bengal Act IV of 1889 (the Calcutta Burial Boards Act 1889), sections 1 to 13, and

(3) for all other communities collectively—Bengal Act IV of 1889, section 14; and the object of this Bill is to amend section 14 of the Act of 1889, so as to authorize the appointment of separate Burial Boards in Calcutta for any community other than the Christian and Muhammadan communities.

2. It is also proposed, by clause 3 of the Bill, to repeal the Second Schedule to Bengal Act IV of 1889, relating to the Chota Gobra Gorastan, because that place is no longer used as a public burial-ground.

QUESTION AND ANSWER.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE FEEDER ROAD COMMUNICATIONS IN THE DUARS AND JALPAIGURI DISTRICTS.

The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state what action is under contemplation or likely to be taken to improve the feeder road communications in the Duars and Jalpaiguri Districts, the present unsatisfactory state of which is seriously felt by the Planting community and the Bengal-Duars Railway, as well as by the public ; and the insufficiency of which is seriously checking the development of the tea trade particularly, and others generally. It is believed that the old Military road is proposed to be reconstructed, but this road, so far as I am aware, will not materially benefit the tea trade or the Railway. I understand that a deputation of the Planters waited on His Excellency, while he was at Jalpaiguri, on the subject.

The Hon'ble MR. FINNIMORE replied —

The question of the improvement of the road communications in the Duars is receiving the full consideration of Government, and a conference was held on 20th December, 1912, at Jalpaiguri, at which the Chief Engineer of the Roads and Buildings Branch, the local Civil and Public Works officers, and the following non-officials were present :—Mr. A. W. C. Chaplin, Chairman, Duars Planters' Association, (2) Rai Kalipada Banarji Bahadur, Vice-Chairman, District Board of Jalpaiguri and (3) Maulvi Musharraf Husain. It was resolved at that conference that a good East and West road was required from Kumargram to Tetuliya via Alipur, Falakata, Dhupguri, Gairkata, Ramshai, Mainaguri and Jalpaiguri and a North and South road from Ramshai to Matalli, and that if these roads are constructed and maintained by Government, the District Board would maintain all the other roads. The District Board are preparing a scheme for the improvement of these roads and will submit it to Government with an application for a loan to carry out the scheme. Government is awaiting receipt of this scheme.

As regards the two roads proposed to be constructed East to West and North to South, the Superintending Engineer of the Northern Circle has already been asked to report the rough cost of metalling and bridging them, and the receipt of the information is awaited.

On receipt of the District Board scheme and the information from the Superintending Engineer, further action will be taken as far as funds will permit. For the present, a provision of two lakhs of rupees has been set aside for improvement to the Duars roads in the Public Works Department budget for next year.

It is not proposed to reconstruct any old Military road.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE BENGAL BOARD OF REVENUE BILL, 1913.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved for leave to introduce a Bill to alter the constitution of the Board of Revenue for Bengal.

He said :—

My Lord, it will be unnecessary for me to detain the Council for any length of time in dealing with this motion for permission to introduce the Bengal Board of Revenue Bill. It may be worth while to explain at the outset that the necessity for this Bill has arisen out of the constitution of Council Government in Bengal and is not connected in any way with the territorial readjustment that was made with effect from the 1st April last, or the conversion of the Government of Bengal into a Presidency Government.

It was realised from the first that, when an Executive Council was created for Bengal, it would be possible to make some reduction in the existing Board of Revenue, both in its staff of two Members and in its establishment, and, as soon as the introduction of Council Government had been determined upon, this question was taken up and discussed with great thoroughness from every point of view." The desirability of abolishing the Board of Revenue altogether, a proposal to put in its place an officer to be called a Financial Commissioner, and the suggestion that the Board of Revenue might be retained in name, the powers of the Board being given to two Members of the Executive Council, were all examined and debated between the Local Government, the Government of India and the Secretary of State. Eventually the objections which were raised to the entire abolition of the Board of Revenue, which would carry with it the transfer of the appellate powers of the Board to a Member of the Executive Government, were deemed to be of sufficient weight to necessitate the retention of a separate Board, though consisting of one Member only, to deal with the appellate and statutory work which forms a part of the most important functions which have hitherto been entrusted to the Board of Revenue.

The Government has been advised, however, that it is necessary to legislate to legalise the permanent appointment of a Board of Revenue consisting of one Member only, as it was obviously the intention of the legislature, at the time when the Bengal Board of Revenue was originally constituted, that it should consist of two Members. The present Bill has been drafted in order to legalise the permanent appointment of a Board of Revenue with one Member. I would only add that administrative arrangements have been made by which the executive duties of the Board of Revenue have been considerably reduced to render it possible for one Member to take upon himself the appellate and statutory functions which were formerly divided between the two Members of the Board.

I beg, my Lord, to move for permission to introduce the Bengal Board of Revenue Bill.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY BILL, 1913.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the recovery of public demands in Bengal.

He said :—

My Lord, the Bill to amend the Public Demands Recovery Act[1] for the introduction of which I have the honour to ask the permission of the Council is an extremely technical one, and I should have been glad had it fallen to the lot of a Member with more legal experience and knowledge than I possess to explain its purport and its principles. However, as the legal adviser to Government, who was mainly concerned with the drafting of the Bill, the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Chapman, is not a Member of this Council, I have to take charge of it ; but I am glad to say that Mr. Chapman has kindly promised to assist us with his advice when we deal with the details of the Bill at a later stage.

The question of amending the Public Demands Recovery Act[1] arose first in the year 1907, when the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rampini (now Sir Robert Fulton) addressed Government with reference to two decisions of Full Benches of the High Court. These decisions disclosed two prominent defects in the present Act ; the first of which is that the Act leaves in uncertainty important points connected with the powers that the Civil Courts have to deal with proceedings under the Act ; the second defect being that it is possible to assail the title of a purchaser under the Act up to 12 years after the sale on the ground that before the sale the defaulter was not served with notice of the demand.

It is noticeable that with reference to the first defect, while the two Judges who dealt with the original appeal were able to point out that the previous decisions of the Court conflicted, the Full Bench of the High Court came to no decision in the matter, on the ground that the question of law which was submitted did not arise upon the facts found. And, with reference to the second defect, the Full Bench of the High Court recommended that the Legislature should take the matter into consideration with a view to an amendment of the law on the subject, so as to allow suits assailing the title of the purchaser to be brought only within a reasonably short period from the date on which he had been put in possession.

An attempt was made at first to deal with these points in a brief Bill, confined to the amendment of the two defects to which reference has been made, but the draft was not approved by the legal authorities who were consulted, and it was decided to wait until the passing of the new Civil Procedure Code[1] before taking action.

The matter was taken up again in August, 1908, when another draft Bill for the amendment of the Public Demands Recovery Act[2] was referred to a strong Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rampini as President, with the Hon'ble Justice Sir Ashutosh Mukherji, the Chief Secretary, the Secretary in the Judicial Department, the Legal Remembrancer, the Senior Government Pleader and the Assistant Secretary in the Legislative Department as Members.

It was decided by this Committee (a) that a Civil Court should, in the main, be permitted to interfere with a Certificate Officer's proceedings in execution only on the ground of fraud, and (b) that a period of one year from the date of delivery of possession to a purchaser should be fixed as the period of limitation after which a certificate debtor should be debarred from getting the certificate sale set aside on the ground that he had not been served with notice of demand. It was also resolved by the Committee that the Act should be entirely re-drafted and consolidated, so that it might contain, so far as practicable, all the law a Certificate Officer might require. When taking up the work of redrafting the opportunity was utilised to assimilate the law governing recovery of rent by the certificate procedure to that under which rent is recovered by suit, as there appeared to be good reason for doing away with the existing distinction. Other modifications were also made of a minor nature which are fully described in the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the Bill. The Bill, as drafted, was carefully revised in the Legislative Department and was subsequently examined and approved by the Hon'ble Justice Sir Ashutosh Mukherji. It was circulated for opinion to the chief Revenue Officers in the mufassil, and was favourably received, and it was finally submitted to the Government of India and received their approval in due course.

I have been careful to point out, in giving this brief account of the history of the Bill, that this Government has been anxious to secure the assistance of the best possible legal advice in framing the Bill, as it is obviously one which could not have been dealt with thoroughly or safely by Executive Officers alone. I venture to submit to the Council that it may now safely grant permission for the introduction of the Bill and that it may be left to a Select Committee to examine it and deal with it in detail. Should therefore the Council grant permission to introduce the Bill to-day, I propose at the next meeting of Council to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE CALCUTTA BURIAL BOARDS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1913.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend section 14 of the Calcutta Burial Boards Act, 1889[3].

He said :—

My Lord, I have the honour to ask the permission of this Council to introduce a Bill for the amendment of the Calcutta Burial Boards Act of 1889[3] in order to permit of the formation of Burial Boards for communities other than the Christian and Muhammadan communities of Calcutta.

The first legislation on the subject of Burial Boards is contained in Act V of 1881[1], which was passed to secure better provision for the general management, regulation and control of Christian burial-grounds. This was followed, in the year 1889, by Act IV[2] of that year, which provided for the appointment of a Muhammadan Burial Board in Calcutta to secure the proper management and control of Muhammadan burial-grounds. This Act, which is the one that we now propose to amend, contained also a section, No. 14, which provided for the appointment of a Board for the management and control of public burial-grounds other than Christian and Muhammadan burial-grounds, but under that section the members of the Board were definitely limited to three, those three being the Chairman for the time being of the Corporation of Calcutta, the Health Officer for the time being of Calcutta and an officer of the Public Works Department appointed by the Local Government.

The provision for the Burial Boards thus made proved adequate for the following 20 years, owing to the fact that those of the Hindu population who follow the custom of interment of their dead occupied private burial-grounds over which public superintendence was unnecessary. In the year 1911, however, the Calcutta Corporation represented that the accommodation provided for burials among that section of the Hindu population had proved inadequate, and that the Corporation had accordingly acquired two plots of land to serve as public burial-grounds for this community. The question having arisen as to the manner in which these public grounds should be managed and controlled, it became obvious at once that it was desirable that the Burial Board constituted for their management should contain representatives of the community concerned, and as the constitution of such a Burial Board was impossible under the Act of 1889[2], Government was asked to legislate on the subject. It was at first proposed to legislate for the particular community, but Government was subsequently advised that it was desirable to make the Bill more comprehensive and to introduce into it provision for the constitution of Burial Boards in future for other than the Christian, Muhammadan or Hindu communities. The present Bill has been drawn up, therefore, to provide generally for the constitution of Burial Boards by the Government for any community other than the Christian and Muhammadan communities, such Board to consist of the three officers whom I have mentioned already and not less than three nor more than six members of the community concerned, to be nominated from time to time by the Local Government. I believe the Bill will prove to be entirely non-controversial and beg to move for permission to introduce it in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to.

HIS EXCELLENCY, before adjourning the meeting, said :—

I take this opportunity of announcing that the Legislative Department of the Government of India have issued an amended Notification fixing the 14th February as the latest date by which the election of the two Additional Members of the Imperial Council by the non-official Members of the Provincial Council is to be held. The actual dates fixed by the Local Government for the scrutiny of nominations and for the election will be communicated hereafter to the Hon'ble Members concerned.

The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 29th January, 1913, at 11 A.M.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1912-13.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1910-11, the area under sugarcane in Bengal represents some 10·3 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the preliminary forecast, the weather continued favourable in the Western districts. In the districts of Rajshahi, Rangpur, Bogra, Mymensingh and Bakarganj the crop was partially damaged by heavy rainfall and flood in July and August and in the districts of Dacca, Bakarganj, Chittagong and Noakhali by insect-pests. A cyclonic storm at the end of October also caused slight damage in some places. The weather conditions were, therefore, for the province as a whole, not uniformly favourable.

Acreage.—The area planted with sugarcane in this year is estimated at 221,800 acres against 223,300 acres last year. The normal area is reported to be 250,300 acres.

Outturn.—From the appendix attached to the report it will be seen that only one district, namely, Burdwan, reports more than a normal crop, i.e., 108 per cent. Nineteen districts report a crop between 90 and 100 per cent., four districts between 80 and 85 per cent. and three districts between 70 and 75 per cent.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total outturn of the crop for the province works out to 91 per cent. of the normal.

Accepting 35½ maunds as the normal rate of cane gur per acre, the gross outturn this year for the province is estimated at 5,264,300 cwts. against 5,125,100 cwts. last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur likely to be obtained from the juice of the date-palm is estimated at 1,805,100 cwts. and from palmyra-palm at 4,200 cwts. The total quantity of gur in the province from all sources this year is estimated at 7,073,600 cwts.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

APPENDIX I.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of 1912-13.

DISTRICT.	Estimated normal area under the crop.	ESTIMATED AREA UNDER THE CROP.		ESTIMATED OUTTURN AS A PERCENTAGE OF THE NORMAL YIELD PER UNIT OF AREA.		Date by which the harvesting of crop generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	REMARKS BY DISTRICT OFFICERS.
		Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas	5,100	3,800	3,700	109	100	November	The weather was favourable.
Nadia	7,900	6,600	6,800	69	92	Middle of November ...	The weather was favourable. The outturn was below the normal for want of timely rainfall. The increase of area as compared with that of last year was due to favourable rainfall at sowing time.
Murshidabad ...	3,600	3,800	3,300	90	92	Will commence from the latter part of February in the normal time.	Want of sufficient rainfall in September and October affected the growth of the crop. The cyclonic weather towards the end of October damaged the crop by about two annas. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
Jessore	6,600	3,400	3,900	81	100	November. Normal ...	The weather was occasionally rainy with high wind and was not favourable for the growth of the crop.
Khulna	1,500	1,300	1,300	100	100	End of September. Normal.	The weather was favourable owing to good rain.
Burdwan	25,800	24,100	24,100	90	108	Will begin in February	The weather from July to December was favourable to the crop. The crop suffered to some extent by drought in the beginning in the Asansol subdivision. The increase of area was due to favourable weather at sowing time.
Birbhum	9,000	8,500	9,000	83	92	January	The weather was good. The increase of area as compared with last year was due to timely rainfall at sowing time.
Bankura	15,000	10,500	11,000	100	92	Not begun yet ...	The character of the weather from July to December was favourable to the crop. The decrease in outturn was due to want of rain at the time of planting. The increase in area this year was due to extension of cultivation which is considered to be profitable to the agriculturists.
Midnapore ...	3,000	3,000	3,000	116	100	End of December. Normal.	The weather was favourable, but inopportune rainfall caused some damage to the crop in a portion of Tamluk and Ghatal subdivisions.
Hooghly ...	7,200	7,200	6,900	97	97	End of November. Normal.	The character of the weather from July to December was fairly good.
Howrah ...	8,500	7,000	6,700	79	100	Middle of November ..	The weather was favourable. The rainfall in October and the showers at the end of November did much good to the crop. The decrease in area was due to want of moisture in the soil at planting time.
Rajshahi ...	18,000	13,600	13,200	80	75	Middle of November. Normal.	The scanty rainfall from July to December was not so favourable to the crop as was expected. A little damage, however, was done to the crop by heavy flood in the Naogaon subdivision. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
Dinajpur ...	25,000	30,000	29,200	90	81	Beginning of November. Normal.	Early rain at planting time retarded the growth of the plants, and the storm in the end of October also caused some damage to the crop. The decrease in area was due to rainfall at planting time.
Jalpaiguri	5,300	4,400	4,800	80	85	End of November. Normal.	The weather was favourable. The outturn is estimated to be below the normal owing to stunted growth of the crop for unfavourable weather in the planting season. The increase of area was due to seasonable rainfall.
Darjeeling	1,200	100	100	75	75	Not yet begun	The weather from July to December was good. The fall in outturn below the normal was due to unfavourable weather at the planting time.
Rangpur	20,500	13,300	13,100	92	100	Beginning of December. Normal.	The weather was unfavourable owing to floods in August, which damaged the crop by about 30 per cent., but subsequent weather proved favourable.
Bogra	20,000	20,000	20,000	80	70	Middle of January. Normal.	The unusually heavy rainfall and floods in July and August damaged the crop considerably in the Panchbibi thana, where the crop is chiefly grown, and thus caused the outturn to fall below the normal, although the weather subsequently has been favourable.

District.	Estimated normal area under the crop.	Estimated area under the crop.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the harvesting of crop generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Pabna	10,000	10,000	10,000	90	100	Middle of January. Normal.	The weather conditions were favourable and no injury to the crop was reported.
Malda	200	200	200	100	100	Latter part of October. Normal.	The weather was favourable. No injury to the crop is reported. The outturn is expected to be normal.
Dacca	21,100	16,800	15,900	85	92	Middle of October. Normal.	The weather was favourable, but some damage was caused to the crop by insect-pests, and the outturn is therefore expected to be below the normal.
Mymensingh ...	8,000	7,500	7,500	87	97	1st week of December. Normal.	The rainfall from July to December was favourable to the crop, except in the Netrakona subdivision, where the incessant rainfall and flood hampered the growth of the crop and caused slight damage; hence the outturn is below the normal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

SANITATION IN THE RAJSHAHI DIVISION.

The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state what steps are being taken in the Rajshahi Division for combating the ravages of malarial poison, and for the improvement of village sanitation?

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"There are six travelling dispensaries in the Dinajpur district. Each dispensary is in the charge of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon and they are supervised by an Assistant Surgeon. Five Sub-Assistant Surgeons are employed in the Nator thana of the Rajshahi district in examining the figures of mortality in order to assist in the establishment of a factor by which the true mortality from malaria may be distinguished from the other deaths reported as due to fever. It is intended to extend the scope of these investigations to the unhealthy parts of the Jalpaiguri district.

Dr. Bentley, the Special Officer for Malaria research, has carried out anti-malarial measures in the town of Dinajpur, and his report on the subject, which is now under preparation, is awaited.

The arrangements adopted by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam for the supply of quinine at cheap rates from selected vendors are still in force, but proposals for the introduction of improved methods of distribution of quinine by dispensaries maintained or aided by District Boards are under consideration.

Government is not aware of the actual measures that are being taken at the present time by District Boards and Municipalities to improve the sanitation of villages or towns within their charge, but it is understood that they are devoting no less attention to this subject than they did in previous years, by the distribution of quinine, clearance of jungle and roadside drains, and the filling up of insanitary hollows.

The sanitary staff of the Province has been strengthened by the appointment of two additional Deputy Sanitary Commissioners. One of these officers reported his arrival on the 18th January, and is being posted to the sole charge of the Rajshahi Division It will be his duty to investigate the sanitary conditions of the Division, to advise District Boards as to the sanitary measures which they should undertake, and to supervise the execution of approved schemes for the improvement of village sanitation generally."

VILLAGE UNION COMMITTEES.

The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to supply a statement giving the number of village union committees that have already been formed, or are in the process of being formed, and the names of the villages in which such unions exist or are being established?

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"A statement is laid on the table which gives the names of, and the number of villages comprised in, the 63 Unions now in existence and the 9 Unions whose establishment is now under consideration. A list of the names of the villages comprised within each of the Unions will be supplied to the Hon'ble Member."

Statement referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble Mr. Donald to Question No. II asked by the Hon'ble Raja Mahendra Ranjan Ray Chaudhuri at the Council Meeting of the 29th January, 1913.

MANAGEMENT OF MADRASSAH HOSTELS.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM asked :—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the articles which appeared in the Mussalman newspaper, dated December 27th, 1912, January 3rd, 10th and 17th, 1913, reflecting upon the administration and management of the Madrasah Hostels ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to inquire into these allegations and place before the Council the result of that inquiry ?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

"(a) Government has seen the articles referred to by the Hon'ble Member.

(b) The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, has already been requested to inquire into the matter and to submit a report to Government. On receipt of his report, Government will consider what further action should be taken."

SUPPLY OF PURE DRINKING WATER IN RURAL AREAS.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA of Nashipur asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to say what action is being taken to ensure the supply of pure drinking water in the rural areas ?

(b) Does the Government intend to pass necessary instructions to all the District Boards of Bengal to set apart a fixed portion of their income every year for the said purpose and to prepare a separate budget for the same ?

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"As the Hon'ble Member is aware, a conference was held last October in Darjeeling to consider what steps should be taken to improve the supply of drinking water in rural areas. The conclusions then arrived at will form the basis of future action. It was decided at the conference that the first essential of success was a survey of the existing conditions in the rural areas and the preparation and maintenance of water-supply maps and registers. Government has already addressed the Commissioners of Divisions on the subject, inviting their attention to the importance of the question and asking them to report in what subdivisions Sub-Overseers are required to make the preliminary survey. The appointment of two such officers for Birbhum and of four for Rangpur has already been sanctioned and further appointments will be made in the immediate future. The cost of these appointments is borne by Government. Government is fully alive to the importance of this question, and the steps now being taken are only preliminary to further action. When the necessary material has been collected by the Sub-Overseers it may be necessary to convene a larger conference to discuss the best methods of procedure, and His Excellency trusts that the information so gathered will enable Government to take still more practical and effective action.

"With regard to the second part of the Hon'ble Member's question, Government does not think it wise under existing circumstances to fetter the discretion of District Boards in the matter of the allotment of their funds."

JUNGLE-CUTTING IN CERTAIN MALARIOUS DISTRICTS OF BENGAL.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA of Nashipur asked :—

(a) Is it a fact that the Government, in order to check malarial fever, has directed an experiment to be made by cutting down jungles in certain malarious districts of Bengal?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the amount allotted for the purpose and the names of the districts where this experiment is to be carried out?

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"(a) Government has under consideration proposals for carrying out experiments on jungle-clearing as a measure against malaria in Bengal. The question has been referred to the Provincial Malaria Committee for advice, and Government is awaiting a report on the subject from this Committee.

(b) A grant of Rs. 50,000 has been sanctioned by the Governing Body of the Indian Research Fund Association for this purpose. Pending receipt of the report of the Provincial Malaria Committee no decision has been arrived at as to the districts in which the experiments will be carried out."

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE BENGAL BOARD OF REVENUE BILL, 1913.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved that the Bill to alter the constitution of the Board of Revenue for Bengal be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Collin, the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson, the Hon'ble Sir Bijay Chand Mahtab, Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem Faz-ul-Haq, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji, the Hon'ble Rai Hari Mohan Chandra Bahadur and the mover.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJI said :—

"My Lord, the motion having been made for the reference of the Bill to the Select Committee, it is permissible to us, under our rules, to discuss the question of the principle of the Bill. I desire to raise a point of principle. I will not press it, but as it has formed the subject of discussion in the public prints and there is a considerable volume of public feeling behind it, it is necessary to mention it in this Council with a view to elicit an expression of opinion and to afford the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill an opportunity for giving us information. The question has been asked, Is a Board of Revenue at all necessary for Bengal in view of the creation of an Executive Council?' There are two other Presidency Governments in India besides our own—the Government of Bombay and that of Madras. In Bombay, there is no Board of Revenue; but they have Commissioners of Divisions. In Madras, there is a Board of Revenue, but no Commissioners of Divisions. We have both. Is there any necessity for this double machinery? Nor is the fact to be overlooked that the revenue system in our Province, where the Permanent Settlement exists, is simpler and less complicated than the revenue systems of Madras and Bombay. The periodical assessments in those Presidencies entail serious work and heavy strain upon the Revenue Departments. I do not overlook the fact that appeals against the decisions of Commissioners of Divisions in revenue matters are necessary and they should be provided. But it seems to me that this is perfectly feasible by a distribution of work among the members of the Executive Council. These are the views which I desire to lay before the consideration of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. CHAKRABATTI said :—

" My Lord, in spite of the observations made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill while introducing this Bill a week ago, I think I am right in saying that the public, including some Hon'ble Members of this Council, are not convinced that the retention of a separate Board of Revenue, even in the limited form now proposed, has been shown to be either desirable or necessary. We all know that the Report of the Royal Commission upon Decentralisation in India in paragraph 470 considered, as a useful makeshift, the system introduced in this part of the country by Sir Andrew Fraser which brought the Board of Revenue into closer contact with the Government without merging it therein, and the Report further recommended that this system should give way to the complete absorption of the Board into a Governor-in-Council System. The final recommendations of the Commission on this point are to be found in paragraph 469 of the Report,—which are, that the functions of the Board should be discharged mainly by the Commissioners of the Divisions vesting in the Government itself such functions as cannot expediently be made over to the Commissioners. His Majesty's Commissioners further recommended a strengthening of the Executive Councils preliminary to the absorption of the Boards. There is no doubt that the Government of Bengal was trying at one time to give effect to these recommendations. This appears clearly from the reply given in the Council on the 10th December, 1910, by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming to the question put by my friend Maharaja Sir Prodyot Kumar Tagore. It was then stated in substance and effect that the retention of the Board, consisting of one member, was only provisional and that within a period of two years from April, 1910, the duties of the Board would be distributed between Commissioners and Members of the Executive Council. Those two years have since passed and we are now told that a Board of Revenue for this Presidency consisting of one member is a necessity. It may be so. But we have before us nothing but the statement of the Hon'ble Member on which we can form our judgment and rest our decision. My Hon'ble friend Mr. Lyon has assured us that this question was taken up and discussed with great thoroughness from every point of view and he has further stated that various schemes and proposals in this connection were examined and debated between the Local Government, the Government of India and the Secretary of State. I have no doubt that it is so. But many of us may not have much confidence in these proceedings 'in camera' and we would like that the Government should place before this Council all the materials which they think necessitate the retention of the Board as proposed, and which, further, will enable the Hon'ble Members to make up their minds in connection with this important question. I can assure Your Excellency that in making these observations I do not desire to play the rôle of a carping critic. I am personally convinced—and I have no doubt that I voice the opinion held by a large section of the public which the Government should not ignore—that no case for the retention of the Board, even in the modified form proposed, has been made out. I further feel and—here again I have no doubt that the feeling of Your Excellency's Government and of the public is the same,—that the financial resources of the Government are none too large and that it will not be fair to sanction permanent and recurring expenditure where it can be avoided. The country has noticed with great concern the steady increase in the cost of Government and the increase in the number of its officers in its higher branches within the last decade. Taking the heads of the Government, the members of the Board of Revenue, the Chief Commissioner if any, and the Divisional Commissioners, their number for the territories now covered by the administrative divisions of Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and Assam was, prior to 1905, 16, between 1905 and 1910, 18, between 1910 and 1912, 20 and since 1912, 23.

If you take the total cost, it will stand in round numbers per mensem at Rs. 55,000 prior to 1905, Rs. 67,000 between 1905 to 1910, Rs. 78,000 between 1910 and 1912 and Rs. 96,000 since 1912.

Apart from this, the instances afforded by the sister Presidencies of Bombay and Madras are very interesting and instructive. While the Madras Presidency has no Divisional Commissioners, the Presidency of Bombay has no Board of Revenue. From this one will be inclined to assume that both are not essential for efficient administration. While the Madras Government consists of a Governor, three Councillors and four members of the Board of Revenue, the Presidency of Bombay manages with a Governor, three Councillors and four Divisional Commissioners, the cost of administration in round numbers in either case being about Rs. 40,000 per mensem. In this Presidency, under the arrangement now proposed, I calculate the monthly expenditure on the same heads, including therein one member of the Board and the five Divisional Commissioners, to be Rs. 45,000 in round numbers. I therefore respectfully suggest that the Hon'ble Member in charge of this Bill should avail himself of rule 32 (1) (c) of the Bengal Legislative Rules, 1912, and put on the table all available correspondence and papers referred to in his speech on the last occasion, so that the country at large may be convinced of the desirability and necessity of this measure and that Hon'ble Members may have facilities afforded to them to make up their minds and to co-operate, if convinced, with the Government, in passing the Bill.

My Lord, one word more and I have done. I hope that I shall not be misunderstood. I am not opposing the Bill, but what I am seeking is more information, and there will be no harm done if we have an opportunity of discussing and seeing all the information which is available. It may be,—and this is the position which I take up,—that a case will be made out for the necessity of this legislation. But it may also be that, after due consideration, the necessity may not be established."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Lyon said :—

My Lord, the difficulty as to placing before the Council the papers which have been called for by the Hon'ble Mr. Chakrabatti is that those papers consist of correspondence with the Government of India and the Secretary of State, and that it is not possible for us on our own authority to publish these papers at this stage. And I venture to suggest that it is, perhaps, hardly necessary to place the details of that correspondence before the Council.

The case is somewhat simpler, I take it, than has been suggested in the speeches of the Hon'ble Members.

The Hon'ble Mr. Surendra Nath Banerji has, I understand, acknowledged that it is entirely necessary that there should be an appellate authority in these matters, and I think with him that it is not desirable that larger powers with respect to such appeals should be placed in the hands of the Commissioners, although this was the tendency of the recommendations of the Royal Commission. The difficulty about giving these powers over to Commissioners, apart from the undesirability of limiting appeals—the point taken by the Hon'ble Mr. Banerji—is that there are five divisions in this Presidency, and it is practically impossible for Commissioners to deal separately with the important questions which arise in revenue cases, and give decisions so uniform in character as to constitute an intelligible revenue law which could be adopted and followed subsequently. It is necessary, therefore, to have some central authority which can hear and decide appeals in these matters.

The difficulty which arose at once, when the question of the abolition of the Board of Revenue was suggested, was, what would be the central authority to deal with these appeals, and the final conclusion we have arrived at is the one which was urged on us from the beginning by the large body of representative landlords in Bengal who protested against this abolition.

There are obvious objections to handing this power of appeal over to Members of the Executive Council, who would have to hear counsel in the case, and who would be interested to some small extent, as members of the Government, in a great many of the cases which would arise. It is for this reason held to be desirable, by many of the persons interested, that we should have an authority which is to a certain extent apart from the Government, and which should stand aloof as our one guiding revenue authority and deal out justice as between Government and the litigants in these cases.

This is the view which was originally placed before the Government of India by this Government, and the suggestion was then made that on the abolition of the Board of Revenue there should still remain a Financial Commissioner who would deal with appellate work and other similar work involving on occasions action which might clash with the interests of Government, such as the work of the Court of Wards and so on. The question was further argued and was referred by the Government of India to the Secretary of State, when the objections which had been taken to the abolition of the Board of Revenue, such as those I have spoken of, eventually prevailed, the chief point which influenced the Secretary of State in the matter being the political objections to Members of the Executive Council sitting not only to determine revenue matters within the competence of this Government, but also as a Court of Appeal to hear important revenue matters in which the interests of Government were concerned.

Parallels have also been drawn between the constitution we propose to set up in Bengal in this matter as compared with the constitution of the Governments of Bombay and Madras.

The differences are due to the fact that in this Presidency our system of providing a separate appellate revenue authority has grown up through a great number of years. We now find established, as part of our Government, a system which has the sanction of tradition and of custom, and I think the entire removal of this separate revenue authority would be viewed with misgivings by a great many of the public who are concerned with revenue matters. It would also involve a very considerable change in the whole of our revenue system, a change which would mean a large amount of legislation, in the course of which the objections to this action would, I think, become increasingly apparent.

As to the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Mr. Chakrabatti that there has been a change of opinion among the authorities on this particular case, I can only say that the fact is freely admitted and I think that it may be argued that this change has strengthened our case. At first sight it seemed an obvious suggestion that when we were enlarging the Government by the addition of Members of the Executive Council, we might abolish the Board of Revenue, an institution which does not exist together with Commissioners and in Executive Council in other Provinces. But when we examined the question, when we heard the opinions of the landlords, and those who were interested in revenue matters, and the views expressed by the unofficial members of the Committee who were summoned to deal with the case, when we had represented the matter to the Government of India, and the Government of India had represented it to the Secretary of State—all these authorities being deeply interested in financial considerations and desirous of affecting the change to a Council Government in Bengal with a minimum of avoidable expense—this opinion was modified, and I think it strengthens our case that we should have considered the question of abolition first and have been led by these deliberations to the final conclusion that a Board consisting of one member was desirable and was in fact necessary for the conduct of the work. And I would suggest that, by the retention of such a Board, we are taking action sanctioned by tradition and custom in Bengal, and the action which will interfere least with the prejudices and experience of those who have to deal with the more important revenue matters in this Presidency.

I trust that in the light of this further information, it will not be considered necessary to delay the case at the present stage, and that the Bill will be allowed to go to the Select Committee. The Select Committee will deal with the details of the arrangements which are about to be made, and it is in their power to suggest, should they wish to do so, that the Bill be further published for public information and criticism. I think that, in these circumstances, it is desirable that we should allow the Bill to be referred to the Select Committee.

The motion was then put and agreed to.

FEMALE EDUCATION COMMITTEE FOR THE BENGAL PRESIDENCY.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

CALCUTTA, THE 4TH FEBRUARY 1913.

RESOLUTION—No. 838.

It is of great importance for the future of the Bengal Presidency that a well-considered and progressive policy for the education of Indian girls should be framed and afterwards systematically and energetically carried out. The methods and practice of the two portions of the province, reunited on the 1st of April last, differ at present in some important respects. The best features of each system require to be carefully selected and the experience of the past to be supplemented by a review of recent developments and changes in conditions. This important and difficult task can be successfully accomplished only with the considered advice and active co-operation of persons who are employed or are otherwise interested in the education of girls. The Government of Bengal have decided, with a view to secure this co-operation and advice, to appoint a committee, which, after considering the subject in all its main bearings, will frame a general scheme as a basis for future progress. His Excellency in Council further proposes that the members shall ultimately form a standing committee which, like the similar committee which formerly existed in Eastern Bengal and Assam, will meet annually for the purpose of advising the Government on the progress of the scheme and on its modification and development.

2. The composition of the Committee will be as follows:—

Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to each member of the Committee.

By order of the Governor in Council,

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

The following Notices are published for general information.

B. K. FINNIMORE.
CALCUTTA, the 3rd February 1913 Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 55 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1913), are re-published:—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that local or other circumstances may arise in which it may be necessary, on account of periodical exercises, manœuvres, or otherwise, to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II of this Notice.

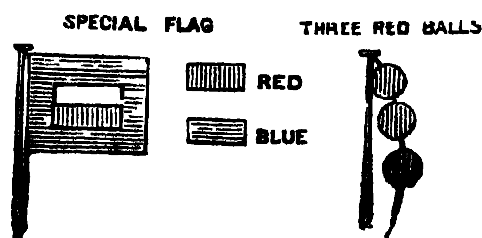
If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.



(4) Under certain circumstances it may become necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to Part III of this Notice.

(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination anchorage Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or permit anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters of vessels are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Signals to be made by vessels approaching ports when inconvenienced by search-lights.

No. 56 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 2 of 1913), are republished :—

Any vessel approaching a port in the British Empire when search-lights are being worked, and finding that they interfere with her safe navigation, may make use of the following signals, either singly or combined :—

(a) By flashing lamp, four short flashes followed by one long flash.
(b) By whistle, siren, or fog-horn, four short blasts followed by one long blast.

Whenever possible, both flashing lamp signals and sound signals should be used.

On these signals being made, the search-lights will be worked, as far as circumstances will permit, so as to cause the least inconvenience, being either doused, raised, or their direction altered.

The signals should not be used without real necessity, as unless the vessel is actually in the rays of a search-light it is impossible to know which search-light is affected.

Note.

These signals are designed to assist mariners and do not render the Government liable in any way.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF WARDS', ATTACHED AND TRUST ESTATES IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1911-12.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

LAND REVENUE.

CALCUTTA, THE 5TH FEBRUARY 1913.

RESOLUTION—No. 323 L.R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of Wards', Attached and Trust Estate in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1911-12.

THE report deals with the administration of the Wards', Attached and Trust estates of the Presidency of Bengal as now constituted, and covers a period of twelve months from the 1st July 1911 to the 30th June 1912. The revenue year ending on the 30th June will now be adopted throughout the Presidency for the purposes of this report as well as of the Land Revenue Report. Separate statistics have been compiled for the quarter ending 30th June 1911 for the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, in which the report was previously compiled for the financial year.

2. The Board has explained that the delay in the submission of the present report was due to the late receipt of the necessary returns from the managers of certain estates in the Dacca Division which have recently been brought under the Court of Wards. The Governor in Council trusts that efforts will be made to submit the report more punctually in future.

3. Number of estates under management.—Three new estates were taken under management during the year, and five were released. The number of estates under management at the close of the year was 68.

4. Payment of revenue and cesses.—The total amount of revenue and cesses due to Government from the estates under management was nearly 14¾ lakhs. Of this sum more than 13½ lakhs or 93·5 per cent. was realized. The heaviest balances are due from the Tagore estate in the 24-Parganas, but it is reported that steady progress is being made in the reduction of the heavy arrears due from this estate.

5. Rent and cesses due to superior landlords.—Only 60·3 per cent. of the amount due was paid during the year, Rs. 3,44,412 being unpaid out of a total demand of Rs. 8,70,448. Nearly a quarter of the balance is however due from the Bhawal estate in its capacity as a tenure-holder to itself as a superior proprietor, and the amount will be written off when the accounts are adjusted. In other cases, the arrears are due largely to legal difficulties in clearing the accounts of co-sharers or other persons claiming a lien on the estate.

6. Collection of rents and cesses.—The collections in all divisions exceeded the current demand, the percentage of total collection on current demand being 103·1 against 101·6 in the previous year. The standard of 100 per cent. was exceeded in all divisions, the lowest percentage, 101·3, being in the Dacca Division, and the highest, 111·1, in the Rajshahi Division. The outstanding balances are, however, still very heavy and amount to nearly 52 lakhs, or 124·6 per cent. on the current demand, against 126·9 per cent. in the previous year. Considerable progress was made in the Burdwan and the Presidency Divisions in writing off fictitious and time-barred arrears, and in the Chittagong district, the outstanding balances in all estates have been reduced below the standard of 25 per cent. of the current demand. Elsewhere, and especially in the Dacca Division, the arrears, which mostly accumulated before the estates came under the Court of Wards, are still very heavy. The settlement operations, which are now going on, should, as the Board remarks, facilitate the ascertainment of the demand due from each tenant, and the Governor in Council trusts that every effort will be made to reduce these enormous balances by the realization of the amounts which are actually due and the writing off of irrecoverable demands.

As in the previous year, there was a large increase in the number of certificates and civil suits filed for the recovery of rents due to wards' estates. The number of certificates disposed of was a little over half the total number for disposal, and the amount realized was 49·9 per cent. of the total claim against 48·9 in the previous year. The proportion of unrealized balance to the total demand was very heavy in the estates in the Dacca and Mymensingh districts owing, it is said, to the certificates having been filed late in the year. It is to be hoped therefore that the results next year will be more satisfactory.

7. Payment of debts other than those due to Government and superior landlords.—The total liabilities at the beginning of the year of the estates which still remained under the control of Government at the end of the year amounted to over 90 lakhs, of which sum 7½ lakhs was paid off during this year. Of the total liabilities over 70 lakhs is due from six large estates. The difficulties which will have to be overcome before these estates can be restored to solvency are very great, and will probably in some cases necessitate the sale of portions of the estates.

8. Cost of management and expenditure on improvements.—The percentage of cost of management on current demand was 12·1 as against 11·6 in the previous year. The standard of 10 per cent. was exceeded in all the divisions except in the Presidency Division where it was 9·4. The Governor in Council is glad to see that steps have already been taken by the Board to reduce expenditure on management in estates where the charges on this account are considerably above the standard rate.

The total amount spent on works of improvement, schools and dispensaries was Rs. 1,50,589, or 3·6 per cent. of the current rent and cess demand. The demonstration farm on the Boinchee Behari Lal Mukharji's Trust estate in the district of Hooghly appears to have had some success, and the demonstration of potato cultivation on the Syudpur Trust estate in the Khulna district has induced some of the raiyats to take up the cultivation of the crop. Elsewhere, however, little appears to have been done in the matter of agricultural improvement, and the Governor in Council would be glad if the Board would consult the Director of Agriculture as to what further action could be taken in this matter. Managers of wards' estates have special opportunities of bringing improved methods of cultivation to the notice of the tenants, and the Governor in Council trusts that these opportunities will not be neglected.

9. Education of wards.—The important business of the education of wards continued to receive due attention, and the results attained are in the main satisfactory.

10. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board for its efficient administration of the work of the Court of Wards. The heavy indebtedness of most of the more important estates under the Court makes its task a difficult and anxious one, and prevents as much being done for the improvement of the estates as would otherwise be desirable. His Excellency in Council is glad to notice the admirable work done by Miss Cornelia Sorabji as Lady Assistant to the Court of Wards, and it is a matter of satisfaction that under the orders of the Secretary of State her post has now been made permanent and pensionable. The good services of the other officers commended by the Board will be noted in the Appointment Department.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF SANSKRIT LEARNING IN BENGAL.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

CALCUTTA, THE 10TH FEBRUARY 1913.

RESOLUTION—No. 966.

SEVERAL important questions relating to measures for the encouragement of Sanskrit learning have come under the consideration of the Government of Bengal. The conference of Orientalists, held at Simla in July 1911, made proposals for the promotion of ancient and indigenous systems of learning, to which the Governor in Council desires to give practical effect. The time has come for reviewing the constitution and functions of the Sanskrit Examination Board, which was established in 1908 and is still on a temporary footing. A scheme has been submitted to the Government for expanding the Dacca Saraswat Samaj into a more widely organized body which should aid and advise the Government in all matters connected with indigenous Sanskrit studies in the eastern districts. The Dacca University Committee have raised the question of the creation of a department of Brahmanic studies in the Sanskrit College on lines similar to those proposed for the department of Islamic studies in the new University. Lastly, the recent territorial redistribution makes it necessary to compare, and where desirable to co-ordinate, rules and practice in the two portions of the province.

2. The Governor in Council has decided to convene a conference to advise on the difficult and important problems which have thus arisen and to deal more especially with the following questions :—

(1) whether separate organizations should be created for the encouragement and control of Sanskrit learning at Calcutta and Dacca, or whether a single organization with its centre in Calcutta should serve the whole province ;

(2) what should be the constitution and functions of this organization or of these organizations ;

(3) whether any substantial reforms are required in existing systems for the grant of titles, stipends and rewards ;

(4) what should be the policy of the Government in regard to the encouragement of tols ;

(5) whether a department of Brahmanic studies combined with instruction in English should be established in connection with the Sanskrit College.

3. The constitution of the Conference will be as follows :—

CALCUTTA, THE 10TH FEBRUARY 1913.

RESOLUTION No. 1306P.

READ—

The Report of the Committee appointed in Government Resolution No. 5881P., dated the 25th November 1912, to enquire into the circumstances connected with the recent accident at the landing stage at College Ghat, Sibpur, and to suggest practical measures for remedying the defects, if any, in the existing arrangements.

READ ALSO—

The depositions of witnesses recorded by the Committee.

THE facts of the case as found by the Committee are briefly as follows.

On the 19th of November last at 4-30 P.M., a considerable number of passengers from the Botanical Gardens were waiting for the ferry steamer on the pontoon at Sibpur known as College Ghat. As it was low tide the steamer could not draw up to the pontoon, and as usual in such a case the passengers had to be conveyed to the steamer by dinghy. The dinghy made two trips, and on each occasion brought back passengers from the steamer, which was anchored at a distance of some 200 feet from the pontoon. When the dinghy came alongside the pontoon for the third trip. a number of passengers got in and overcrowded the boat. Some of the passengers and the crew remonstrated and tried to prevent further overcrowding. Some passengers then jumped out and regained the pontoon. Their action, however, made the boat heel over, and at this juncture a wave caused by a passing steamer caught it on the beam, and capsized it inwards towards the pontoon. All the passengers were thrown into the water, and although attempts at rescue were made, 11 persons sank at once and were drowned.

2. The enquiry was open to the public. The Committee held its first meeting on the 28th of November 1912, and afterwards met and examined 48 witnesses in the Marine Enquiry Room at the Port Office on the 4th, 5th, 6th, 9th and 12th December 1912.

3. In regard to the responsibility for the disaster, an impression appears to have prevailed that the manjhi of the boat deliberately allowed it to be overcrowded, and complaint was also made that the serang of the ferry steamer Ashmani and his crew did not do all that they could have done to rescue the sinking passengers. The Committee have given careful consideration to these points and find that the manjhi was not in a position to prevent the overcrowding in the circumstances, and that the idea that he said the boat would make no further trips was due to an unfortunate misapprehension of what he really said, for which he cannot be held responsible. As regards the serang, the Committee hold that with more presence of mind and at some risk of gounding the steamer he might have reached the scene of the accident more promptly, but that it is doubtful whether even so loss of life could have been prevented. His Excellency in Council accepts the findings of the Committee and is of opinion that no serious blame can be attached to the serang, or to the manjhi and his crew, or to any individual person among the passengers.

4. On the other hand, the Committee show that the general arrangements at the ghat were defective in certain respects, and for these defects remedies must be found. The Governor in Council accepts the conclusion arrived at by the Committee that a dinghy service is a dangerous means of transport at any ghat for a ferry service which may have to accommodate large numbers of people and where sudden rushes of passengers may occur. Dinghies are not made use of at any of the other landing stages of the Port Commissioners' ferry service, and His Excellency in Council is of opinion that the use of a dinghy at the Sibpur Ghat landing stage should be discontinued. He is glad to learn that the Port Commissioners have already taken steps to acquire light draught steamers, which will be able to run alongside all the landing stages at all states of the tide. The Port Commissioners also propose to rail in all pontoons and to fix iron gates at both ends of the gangways to prevent passengers rushing on to the pontoons. The Governor in Council considers that these improvements will meet ordinary requirements, but he is strongly of opinion that steps should also be taken to enable the Port Commissioners to meet abnormal demands which the public may make on their ferry service at certain landing stages on the occasions of holidays and festivals.

5. His Excellency in Council notices that some doubt was raised during the enquiry regarding the authority responsible for the police arrangements at the landing stages. The Committee are correct in holding that the Police Department is primarily responsible for maintaining order on the pontoons. The disposition of the police force employed on this duty must in future receive the approval of the Commissioner of Police, and the force so employed must be adequate to deal with normal conditions. In the event of a large and sudden increase of the passenger traffic being expected, the Port Commissioners should warn the Police authorities in good time to admit of the force being strengthened at the pontoons concerned.

6. In conclusion the Governor in Council notices with very great pleasure the Committee's commendation of the bravery displayed by the undermentioned gentlemen who risked their lives by plunging into the river in order to rescue those who were in danger of drowning :—

Babu Apurba Ranjan Barua.	,, Probodh Kumar Ghosh.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Resolution be sent to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, and the Public Works (Marine) Department of this Government.

Ordered also that the Committee's Report and the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

C. J. STEVENSON-MOORE,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report of the Committee appointed to enquire into the circumstances connected with the recent accident at the landing stage at College Ghat, Sibpur.

WE have the honour to submit the report of the Committee appointed in Government Resolution No. 5881P., dated the 25th November 1912, to enquire into the circumstances connected with the recent accident at the landing stage at College Ghat, Sibpur.

2. The Committee held its first meeting on the 28th of November. On the 1st of December the Committee inspected the landing stage at Sibpur and the other landing stages below Howrah Bridge. Mr. Smith, the Deputy Harbour Master, who is in charge of the Ferry Service of the Port Commissioners, attended, and the Committee travelled by the steamer and on the dinghy which were in use at the time of the accident. On the 13th December the Committee inspected the Bara Bazar Ghat, which is the principal landing stage of the ferry service north of the Bridge.

3. The Committee obtained from the Coroner the record of the enquiry held by him into the accident and also invited the Port Commissioners, the Commissioner of Police and the public to submit the names of any persons who could give evidence concerning it. Lists of witnesses were received from the Commissioner of Police, from the Port Commissioners, from Dr. Haridhone Dutt through the Secretary of the Corporation, and from Babu Nanda Lal Banerji, father of Satish Chandra Banerji, who was drowned in the accident. The following gentlemen volunteered to give evidence—Mr. L. Blaker, Mr. W. J. Traise, Mr. G. Demetrius and Mr. B. B. Khandelwal. The Committee met for the examination of witnesses in the Marine Inquiry Room at the Port Office. Mr. Blomefield, of Messrs, Sanderson and Company, watched the proceedings on behalf of the Port Commissioners, and the enquiry was open to the public. Evidence was recorded on the 4th, 5th, 6th, 9th and 12th December, and in all 48 witnesses were examined.

4. The facts of the accident are as follow :—On the 19th of November last, at 4-30 P.M., a considerable number of passengers from the Botanical Gardens, including two European picnic parties and a large picnic party of Indian students, were waiting for the ferry steamer at the landing stage at Sibpur known as College Ghat. When the steamer Ashmani arrived opposite the landing stage, the passengers went down to the pontoon. In all there were about 100 people on the pontoon, including persons who had come to see the passengers off. It was then low-water slack tide, and the steamer could only approach within some 200 feet of the pontoon. As was customary on such occasions, a dinghy licensed to accommodate 13 passengers was used to convey the passengers to and from the steamer. The dinghy made two trips, conveying some Indian students on the first and Mr. Grossmann's party, including Mr. and Mrs. Grossmann, their nurse and child, Mr. Longmore and Mr. Holzmann and some Indian students on the second. It brought back passengers from the steamer on each occasion. When the dinghy came alongside the pontoon for the third trip, a large number of passengers got in and overcrowded the boat. At the same time a passing steamer caused a backwash in the river and the crowded dinghy, which was still alongside the pontoon, capsized inwards towards the pontoon, throwing all its passengers in a struggling mass into the water. At the time (5 P.M.), as the tide tables show, there was 5 feet 6 inches of water alongside the pontoon and 3 feet 6 inches at the sides ; but although attempts at rescue were made, 11 persons in all were drowned.

Their names are :—

Miss F. Demetrius.	Babu Sita Ram Sastri.
„ V. Traise.	„ Prokash Chandra Mitter.
Mr. T. Demetrius.	„ Sanat Kumar Gupta.
Babu Romoni Mohon Gupta.	„ Abani Bhusan Banerji.
„ Satish Chandra Banerji.	„ Arabindo Nath Sen.

Babu Panchanan De.

Information of the accident was given to the Superintendent of the Ferry Service and to the Port Police. A search was made for the bodies of the drowned persons. All the bodies, except those of Miss F. Demetrius and Babu Panchanan De, have been recovered.

5. The terms of reference to this Committee are as follow :—

(1) To enquire into the circumstances attending the recent accident in connection with the ferry service of the Sibpur College landing stage.
(2) To ascertain the defects, if any, in the existing arrangements.
(3) To suggest practical measures for remedying the defects.

6. All the witnesses give practically the same account of the accident, and there is no serious conflict of evidence. The dinghy made its first trip without incident. It carried Indian students only, although Mr. Grossmann and his party were then on the pontoon. According to the evidence of Mr. Holzmann the students made a rush for seats. This is corroborated by the evidence of one of the students, who says that one of the Europeans said to the students around him after the boat had started, "At any rate, you will allow me and my wife to go by the next trip." When the dinghy came back from the first trip, the students again filled it without giving Mr. Grossmann and his party a chance to obtain seats. This is proved by the evidence of the manjhi two of the boatmen, Mr. Grossmann, and several of the students. All the witnesses agree in saying that the Indians first got into the boat and afterwards room was made for Mr. Grossmann's party. As to how this was done, the evidence is conflicting. Mr. Grossmann says, "There were some Indians in the boat when I went to get in. I asked them to get out in order to make room for the ladies and they got out. I did not threaten them. One of them said to me, 'Are you any better than I am?' I explained that I wanted room for the ladies and they all got out Then, after getting in, I said that they had better ask the manjhi how many the boat would carry, and then some five or six got in again. There was no special unpleasantness. I did not threaten to use violence to the students." This version of the incident is supported by the evidence of Mr. Holzmann, who was a member of Mr. Grossmann's party. The other version of the incident as given by Mr. Sen, one of the Assistant Secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association, and by most of the Young Men's Christian Association students, is that Mr. Grossmann used strong language and theatened to throw the students into the water, if some of them did not leave the boat. One of them says that his attitude was terrifying. We have no doubt that Mr. Grossmann insisted that he and his wife should be allowed to go by this trip. We do not see that he can in any way be blamed for this. His party included ladies and was, if on this account only, entitled to consideration. Whether he used the expressions attributed to him does not appear to be of much importance, and it is clear that nothing serious happened. Several witnesses, both European and Indian, who were on the pontoon, deposed that there was no altercation or unpleasantness, and, after Mr. Grossmann's party had got in, several of the students got in again. His attitude can therefore hardly have been so terrifying, or his actions so violent, as some of the witnesses would have us believe.

7. When the dinghy returned from the steamer she carried some 10 or 12 passengers, of whom several had big market baskets. The students who had given way to Mr. Grossmann were standing on the edge of the jetty. Mr. Traise's party, consisting of Mr. Traise, his daughter Miss V. Traise, Messrs. T. and G. Demetrius, Miss Demetrius, Mr. Hoffmann, Mr. Jamison and Mr. and Mrs. Blaker had also arrived on the pontoon. The moment the dinghy came alongside there was a rush of Indian passengers for it, and those on boat had a difficulty in disembarking. The evidence shows that some 10 or 12 Indian possengers got into the boat. After them, Mr. Demetrius jumped in, asking the students to make room for the ladies. They made room, and his brother and sister, Mr. Traise and Miss Traise, entered the dinghy. They were followed by other Indian passengers, until the total number on board reached 20 or 25 ; and by some witnesses it has been estimated that there were 40 passengers on board. However this may be, it is obvious that there was great confusion. The passengers in the dinghy and the crew were remonstrating and trying to prevent others from coming into it, and two of the European passengers and some Indian passengers jumped out and regained the pontoon. This made the boat unsteady, and at this point the wave of a passing steamer caught it on the beam, and capsized it.

8. The reason for the rush into the dinghy was, first, the anxiety of the students who had given way to Mr. Grossmann in the second trip not to miss the third trip, and, secondly, the impression that this would be the last trip of the dinghy. It is said that as the dinghy approached the pontoon some member of the crew, probably the manjhi, informed the people on the pontoon that this was going to be the last trip. The evidence on this point, however, is remarkably divergent, both as to the time at which the statement was made and the language, Hindi or Bengali, in which it was made. We have no doubt that something was said to give the impression that this would be the last trip, and we think it probable that the announcement was made under the orders of the serang of the steamer. There was a large number of passengers still waiting on the jetty. Each trip backwards and forwards would take about 15 minutes. It was already growing dark, and this transshipment is at any time a dangerous manœuvre. The prevailing idea seems to be that the manjhi wilfully invited more people into the boat than it would hold. The orders apparently had that effect, but his intention was the opposite of this. What apparently the manjhi said, under instructions from the serang, was that he would take off the European passengers and that the Indian students should walk to Shalimar Ghat, a distance of about a quarter of a mile, where the steamer would come alongside and wait to take them all on. That was very sensible advice. If it had been taken, there would have been no disaster.

9. It has been suggested that the manjhi failed in his duty and made no attempt to prevent the overcrowding. The manjhi could not leave his position, but stood holding the oar which acts as a rudder. All that he could do would be to remonstrate with the passengers. He says he did so, and there is evidence to support him. One student witness says that he was saying, "Don't get in, as you will sink the boat." Another student says that after 13 or 14 passengers had got in the manjhi said he would not take any more passengers. Most of the witnesses gave evidence to show that the boat was detained a considerable time, and it is clear from the witnesses that the manjhi had not started the boat when the accident occurred. It was loosely held by a rope round an iron pin on the pontoon, and the action of the passengers who scrambled off it at the last moment probably caused the boat to move a little away from the pontoon so that it was able to capsize inwards. The manjhi was, however, not in a position to control the passengers, and the Committee do not hold him to blame for the circumstances which led to the accident.

10. To recapitulate the circumstances, the Committee are of opinion that the accident was due to the overcrowding of the dinghy on the third trip which it was making to the ferry steamer. Some of the passengers realized that the boat was overcrowded, and attempted to get off at the last moment. This caused confusion and made the boat heel over in the direction of the pontoon. A wave from a passing steamer caught the boat at this moment and upset it. The responsibility for overcrowding the boat will be seen from the facts stated in paragraphs 7 and 8 above. The impression given by the crew of the boat that this would be the last trip contributed to the confusion, although the arrangement proposed, viz., that the European ladies and gentlemen should be taken off and the student passengers should walk to the Shalimar landing stage, was reasonable and ought to have been accepted in the circumstances. The manjhi and his crew were unable to prevent the overcrowding, and the boat had not in fact been started when the accident occurred. The action of some passengers. European and Indian, in scrambling off the boat probably contributed to its capsizing, but the Committee cannot blame them for leaving the boat. The passengers on the pontoon were in the main orderly, and there was no unpleasantness between Indians and Europeans, except at the second trip, when room was made for Mr. Grossmann and his party which included ladies. This incident has been discussed in paragraph 6 above. It has been said that a European passenger on the fatal trip made a disturbance by waving his stick on the boat. The evidence of such disturbance is vague. It is certain that the European passengers did not force their way into the boat, as has been stated, though not by any of the witnesses before the Committee, by the free use of their fists and sticks, and that they were all perfectly sober at the time.

11. It has been said that the dinghy could have started safely on its third trip if a European passenger had not detained it to enable him to take on his luncheon basket. The evidence on this point is insufficient. The Europeans allege that all arrangements had been made for bringing off the baskets on the next trip of the steamer. Only two passengers say that they heard someone calling out for lemonade, and one passenger says that he saw a servant holding out the baskets to be taken on board. The Committee are of opinion that nothing happened in connection with luncheon baskets which in any way contributed to the accident.

12. Another point to consider is whether all that was possible was done to save or rescue the passengers. Complaint has been made that there were no life-saving appliances on the pontoon. The Committee are satisfied that there were two life-buoys hanging on the railings of the gangway leading to the pontoon. It would have been better if they had been kept on the railing of the pontoon, as at the other landing stages. There was also a rope on the pontoon, because one of the witnesses says that he threw it out to the people in the water. This, however, was not part of the equipment of the pontoon. The passengers on the pontoon did what they could to help by throwing their neck-cloths in the water, and several of them bravely leapt in and effected rescues.

13. Complaint has been made that the manjhi and his crew did not do all that they ought to have done. They were thrown into the water and probably had some difficulty in saving themselves. The complaint is that, when they reached the bank, they were more anxious to save their boat than the drowning passengers. It is doubtful, however, if they could have done anything in this direction. All the evidence goes to show that the passengers who were drowned sank at once, and the whole scene was over in two minutes or so.

14. Again complaint has been made that the serang of the steamer did not do all that was possible, though appealed to by the people on the steamer and on the pontoon. It appears that some of the passengers on the steamer leapt into the river and swam to the scene of the accident. Life-buoys were also thrown out, though, as the steamer was about 200 feet from the pontoon, they were of little use. Two members of the steamer crew also swam out to the pontoon pushing life-buoys before them, but this was probably not done immediately on the boat capsizing. The serang says that he moved his steamer towards the pontoon, but he evidently did not do so at once. The Committee realize that, owing to the want of water, this was not easy, but they are of opinion that an officer with greater presence of mind would have taken the chance of grounding, and would have endeavoured to reach the scene of the accident promptly. It is doubtful, however, if any action taken by the serang could have prevented loss of life.

15. The preceding paragraphs contain all that it is necessary to say regarding the accident. It rests now to consider the second point of the reference, viz., the defects, if any, in the ferry service arrangements. The wording of the reference implies that these need only be considered with reference to the Sibpur College Ghat, but the Committee have made enquiries as to the other landing stages.

With reference to the Sibpur College Ghat, it appears that the ferry service calls here ten times in the day, and that for two out of the ten trips, the water is too low to allow the steamer to go alongside the pontoon. A dinghy is then used for passengers. The dinghy is licensed to hold 13 passengers in addition to the crew. The average number of passengers at this ghat is, according to the record of the ferry service, 19 per trip, and on ordinary occasions the arrangement would be adequate. The Committee, however, have seen and used the dinghy, and are doubtful if it is a safe means of conveyance where any considerable number of passengers are concerned. The accommodation is gauged by the deck-space, and each passenger is supposed to have 6 square feet, but the closed-in cabin is measured in the deck-space, and passengers seldom use it. The consequence is that, if there is a full complement of passengers, they are liable to overcrowd the open deck which is also required for the oarsmen, or they may sit on the top of the cabin which is unsafe. Passengers also frequently have market baskets with them which take up a great deal of space. The height of the deck above the water is very little, and there is a danger from the wash of passing steamers. On the whole, a dinghy is not a safe conveyance for passengers in a ferry service. It is true that the average number at this ghat is only 19 per steamer-trip, but there are occasions when this number is largly exceeded. On holidays and Sundays, except in the cold season, this is the only means of access by ferry steamer to the Botanical Gardens; the average number per trip rises to 30 or 35, and the number in the morning and evening trips must be much greater. On such occasions the use of a single dinghy, uncontrolled by any supervision, is, in the opinion of the Committee, unsafe. This fact has been recognized by the Port Commissioners who, since the accident, have discontinued the dinghy service. There is only one other ghat, viz., the Telkul Ghat, where passengers cannot land at all tides, and this has always been closed when the tide is too low for steamers to approach the pontoon. The reason was that the distance was too great for safety, whereas at College Ghât it was less. The Committee are of opinion that a dinghy service is dangerous at any ghât, and they understand that the Port Commissioners have arranged for light draught steamers, which will obviate all necessity for their use.

16. As regards the supervision over the ferry service, the Port Commissioners employ a European officer of the standing of a Deputy Harbour Master and two assistants. The former exercises a general supervision over the service both north and south of the Howrah Bridge. One assistant is employed at the Chandpal Ghât and the other at the Bara Bazar Ghât. The arrangements for the passengers at the Chandpal Ghât are sufficiently complete with the exception of some defects noted in paragraph 21. Passengers who wish to embark approach by a separate gangway from those disembarking, and they are not allowed to approach the steamer until the passengers have disembarked. The number of passengers is limited to the authorized complement of the steamer. Two constables are employed to keep order. The arrangements at the Bara Bazar Ghât are similarly sufficient. A note is appended showing what arrangements have been made to control the passengers (Appendix A).

17. At the other ghâts, such as Telkul, passengers are controlled by substantial gates or barriers leading to the pontoons, and one constable is always on duty to control the traffic. There are railings at the back of the pontoons, and passengers are not ordinarily admitted until the steamer arrives. The arrangements are generally sufficient.

18. At the Sibpur College Ghât there were originally two constables deputed, of whom one was always on duty, but in 1910, owing to the small number of passengers using this landing-stage, the Port Commissioners requested the Deputy Commissioner of Port Police to withdraw the constables. It has been ascertained that the average number of yassengers per trip are not more than 20 on ordinary occasions, and the withdrawal of the constables was not unreasonable. On the other hand, there is on holidays and Sundays a considerable increase of passengers who use this ghât. Thus, although the daily average is 189 passengers, there were on the 10th November 312, and on the 19th 351. On the latter date, the day of the accident, it was known to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners that the ordinary number of passengers would be increased by a picnic party of Indian students. In the opinion of the Committee, he ought to have sent the information to the Superintendent, who would have known that on their return it would be necessary to use the dinghy as the steamer could not go alongside the pontoon, and who might have made suitable arrangements for the safety of the passengers. It is, however, a defect of the ferry service system that arrangements are not ordinarily made to meet a press of traffic. In the present instance additional boats for transhipping passengers should have been suppli d, or the landing stage should have been closed. If the landing stage was kept open, steps should have been taken by the deputation of the Superintendent or one of his assistants, or of Police officers, to control the traffic.

19. The third issue placed before the Committee was the suggestion of practical measures for remedying the defects at the ferry service ghâts. The Committee have already noted their conclusions that it is not safe to use the landing stages, unless the steamers can go alongside of them. They do not consider the dinghy service to be safe nor any other form of boat to be safer.

20. As regards the Police arrangements, the Committee are not satisfied that they are sufficiently complete. There appeared from the evidence to be some doubt as to who is responsible for such arrangements. The Deputy Commissioner of Port Police was of opinion that the Port Commissioners were primarily responsible, and that it was his duty, if he found the arrangements inadequate, to call attention to defects. The Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners appeared to say that the strength and disposition of Port Police is a matter of Police administration, and that the Police Department is primarily responsible for seeing that the arrangements to regulate the traffic at the ferry service ghâts are sufficient. The Committee have since ascertained that the Police Department is primarily responsible for maintaining order on the ferry service pontoons. In their opinion, it is desirable that this should be made clear to the Deputy Commissioner of Port Police, and that special arrangements should be made for police control, when any press of traffic is anticipated. They also think that, if special Police are required on any occasion, they shall be of higher rank than constables.

21. As regards the arrangements, mechanical or otherwise, to be made at the ghâts to prevent overcrowding, the Committee are disposed to think that at the Chandpal and Bara Bazar Ghâts there should be fences or railings to prevent intending passengers from crowding into the steamer before it is ready for them. The present system of barriers which are guarded by one constable does not appear to be sufficient. The arrangements made at the Armenian Ghât, which is used for the Railway Ferry Service when the bridge is closed, are more complete, and guards from the bridge service are available to supplement the Police. The Committee understand that a more complete system of barriers is about to be established at Chandpal and Bara Bazar ghâts.

22. As regards the smaller landing-stages, the Committee considered the advisability of making arrangements so as to prevent passengers from crowding on to the pontoons before the arrival of the steamers. Their Indian colleague, Rai Bahadur Nanda Lal Bagchi, was of opinion that such an arrangement would be resented by the passengers, and the Committee therefore do not press it. Nor do they consider that railings are necessary on all sides of the pontoons.

23. In making these suggestions the Committee have in view the consideration that the ferry service is at present extraordinarily cheap for passengers, and that any increase in the cost of the arrangements for controlling the traffic must lead to an increase of the cost to passengers. For instance, the fare between the Shalimar Ghât and the Sibpur College Ghât is 1 pice, and, with an average of 20 passengers per trip, the earning of the steamer amounts to less than 5 annas per trip or about Rs. 3 per day. The whole service is at present a losing concern to the Port Commissioners, and the Committee append a statement (Appendix B), which has been supplied them by the Port Commissioners, which shows that the service can ill afford any increased expenditure for controlling the traffic. The traffic, however, is constantly increasing, and it will be well if the Port Commissioners bear this in mind and keep their arrangements up to the standard required.

24. The Committee desire, in conclusion, to place on record the gallant conduct of certain of the passengers, who risked their lives by plunging into the river in order to rescue those who were in danger of drowning. Three passengers, Babus Apurba Ranjan Barua, Rohini Ranjan Barua and Prakriti Ghosh leapt from the steamer and swam to the pontoon, a distance of about 80 yards. Four gentlemen, who were on the pontoon, also rendered gallant services by plunging into the river. They were Mr. W. R. Milner, Babu Probodh Kumar Ghosh (who saved two men), Babu Bijoy Kristo Gupta and Babu Sarat Kumar Haldar. The remaining passengers on the pontoon appear to have done all that was possible to render assistance.

APPENDIX A.

ARRANGEMENTS TO AVOID OVERCROWDING OF THE BARA BAZAR PONTOON.

A ticket collector is posted at the top or inner end of the gangway to see that no passengers get on to the pontoon until those that arrive by the ferry have left. He is also instructed to count the number of outward passengers as they pass the barrier prior to their embarking. He is assisted in these duties by a khalassi from the staff of the Superintendent, Ferry Service, and the constable on duty.

These arrangements are supervised daily by a European officer deputed by the Superintendent and a booking clerk.

There are 11 steamers in commission, out of which four are licensed to carry 300 passengers by day and 144 by night. The remaining seven steamers can carry 250 and 146 passengers day and night, respectively.

An arrangement has recently been made that during office hours, when the traffic is large, each steamer, with the exception of the Ahiritollah-Salkea and Bara Bazar-Salkea ones, carries a constable on board to maintain order while the steamer is plying.

An extra head constable has also been posted on the Bara Bazar pontoon to assist the staff in maintaining order during the office hours.

It has also been decided to rail in all the pontoons and to fix iron gates at both ends of the gangways to prevent any sudden rushes being made by the passengers on to the pontoons.

APPENDIX B.

INCOME AND EXPENDITURE OF FERRY SERVICE.

	Passengers carried.	Income.	Expenditure.	Loss.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1910-11 ...	7,968,824	2,34,402	2,94,067	59,665
1911-12 ...	8,755,971	2,77,586	3,16,980	39,394

The expenditure figures include sinking fund charges on the cost of the steamers, but as the sinking funds of the trust are calculated on a 30 years' basis and the life of the vessels will not be more than 20 years at the outside, the working loss is really considerably more than shown.

The loss in the earlier years of the service was very much greater, and, so far from it being the case that the Commissioners are making large profits out of the service, the actual fact is that they inaugurated it with the full knowledge that at the low rates of fare which could be charged it could not pay; but to meet a public want, i.e., the safe and more convenient transport of passengers on the Hooghly, they were willing to face a loss.

Third and Final Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1912-13.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1910-11, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·5 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India).

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the second forecast in December, the weather has been generally dry and no further damage is reported to have been caused. The season was generally favourable to the crop.

Acreage.—According to the figures furnished by District Officers, the area sown this year is 15,313,900 acres against 14,963,900 acres of last year, or an increase of 350,000 acres. The normal area under the crop is returned as 16,075,300 acres.

Outturn.—In Khulna, Jessore, Hooghly, Nadia, Dacca and Mymensingh a better crop has been harvested than was expected when the second forecast was issued, but in Dinajpur, Bogra, Faridpur and the Chittagong Hill Tracts the estimates are somewhat below the provious forecast. In the remaining districts the estimates are unchanged.

From the summary of the district reports appended. it will be seen that seven districts report more than a normal crop, viz., Noakhali (125 per cent.), Khulna (123 per cent.), Jessore (117 per cent.), Rangpur, Pabna and Chittagong (each 110 per cent.) and Mymensingh (103 per cent.). Four districts report an average crop. Twelve districts report a crop between 83 and 96 per cent., and only the four remaining districts,—namely, Dinajpur, Birbhum, Rajshahi and Bogra—report a crop as low as between 70 and 75 per cent. According to District Officers' estimates the provincial outturn works out to 98 per cent. of the normal against 103 per cent. of last year.

On the basis of the normal yield of 12 maunds of clean grain per acre, the total provincial outturn, worked out from District Officers' estimates, is 132,312,100 cwt. against 135,884,400 cwt. of last year, or a decrease of about 3 per cent.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	899,700	812,100	827,400	72	88	First week of November. Early.	The weather was favourable, but the rough wind of October last damaged the crop to some extent, and thus caused the outturn to fall off.
Nadia ...	136,800	135,300	135,300	83	88*	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather was favourable.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	337,000	337,900	96	83	November. Normal ...	Want of rain in September and October much affected the crop. About two annas of the crop were damaged by drought and one anna by the cyclone on 31st October and 1st November. Hence the fall in outturn.
Jessore ...	568,100	478,200	466,300	98	117*	Ditto ...	The weather was favourable.
Khulna ...	655,700	651,200	759,500	94	123*	Beginning of November. Normal.	The increase in area since the first forecast is due to revision of figures leading to inclusion of the area under "ralnda paddy" in Bagerhat subdivision and of new cultivated area in the Sundarbans. The area under broadcast rice was much less this year than usual owing to constant heavy rain from the middle of March to June. The deficiency was fully made up by an increase in the transplanted area for which the weather was favourable. The estimate of average outturn is sixteen annas. In most parts of the district the crop has been larger than any during the last ten years or longer.
Burdwan	874,800	742,200	706,000	85	92	End of November. Normal.	The decrease in area this year is due to unfavourable rainfall in the Sadar and Kalna subdivions at sowing time. The weather was afterwards favourable, but the heavy rain and high winds at the end of October caused some damage. The outturn is better than that of last year except in Asansol, where it is below the normal.
Birbhum	601,600	584,600	498,800	103	75	Beginning of November. Early.	The decrease in area and outturn is due to insufficient rainfall.
Bankura	510,600	475,000	476,400	83	83	2nd December	The weather and rainfall were not favourable during the latter part of September and the beginning of October. The cylonic weather in the end of October and the beginning of November also did some damage. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
Midnapore	1,406,000	1,275,000	1,618,400	84	100	Last week of November.	The increase of 343,400 acres over last year's area is attributed to better rainfall. The weather was favourable all along. But for the storm and rain in October which caused some damage the outturn would have exceeded the normal.
Hooghly ...	276,700	284,300	351,400*	72	96*	First week of December. Normal.	The increase in area was due to timely rainfall. The weather continued favourable though the storm and rain in the month of November damaged the crop to a slight extent. Still the outturn is better than that of last year.
Howrah	135,200	98,500	106,600	65	83	Middle of November. Normal.	The cessation of rain in September retarded the growth of the crop to some extent, but the rainfall in the latter part of the season did much good. But for the cyclone in October the crop would have been normal.
Rajshahi	697,000	502,500	502,400	115	75	First week of December. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. About one-fourth of the crop was damaged by floods and drought in the Naogaon subdivision.
Dinajpur ...	1,120,300	945,000	966,000	150	70*	By the end of November. Normal.	The increase of area is due to early rainfall. The outturn has fallen below the normal owing to drought in the latter part of September and first part of October and to the damage caused by the cyclonic weather in the latter part of October.
Jalpaiguri ...	551,30	523,000	527,400	130	90	Beginning of December. Normal.	This year's area has been increased after enquiry. The weather was unfavourable in the Duars, but favourable in Baikuntpur and Chaklajat estates. The cyclonic weather in November also damaged the crop to some extent. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
Darjeeling ...	65,200	37,100	37,100	99	92	Hills:— Last week of November. Terai— First week of December.	The weather was favourable in the Terai and fair in the Hills.

* Revised since the second forecast.

Rangpur ...	822,300	745,000	746,500	116	110	First week of December. Normal.	The weather was all along favourable except in the latter part of October, when the crop was slightly damaged by the cyclone.
Bogra ...	303,000	308,000	308,000	101	75*	Beginning of December. Normal	Excessive rainfall and flood caused damage to the crop in the eastern parts and in the khas mahal in the beginning of the season. The fall in the estimated outturn since the second forecast is due to the cyclonic storm and heavy rain in November.
Pabna ...	566,000	500,000	470,000	105	110	Middle of November. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to extension of jute cultivation. The outturn is better owing to favourable weather conditions. The cyclonic weather in the beginning of November did not cause any appreciable damage.
Malda	300,000	307,000	309,000	125	100	End of November. Normal.	For want of rain from the latter part of September to end of October the crop could not grow well. About four annas crop has been damaged owing to drought only. The outturn obtained is equal to the normal.
Dacca	683,100	678,300	695,600*	96	93*	Middle of November. Normal.	The area of the former forecasts has been revised on reports received from the thanas and the presidents. The fields sown with jute were in many places converted into paddy-fields, the young jute plants having been damaged by excessive rain. Since the submission of the second forecast the weather was favourable. At places there was a little damage owing to storm. The outturn is a little below the normal.
Mymensingh ...	1,196,700	971,700	993,800*	110	103*	Ditto ...	The increase in area is due to the fact that a portion of the area under bhadoi crops was transplanted with winter rice. The weather was on the whole favourable, but much damage was done to the crop by the cyclonic rain in the beginning of November in Tangail.
Faridpur	561,000	487,900	427,600*	94	82*	By the end of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable at sowing time, but was fairly good afterwards. In Gopalganj subdivision some damage was done to the crop by the cyclonic weather towards the latter part of October. Hence the fall in outturn.
Bakarganj ...	1,300,000	1,329,200	1,329,200	120	100	1st December. Normal	The heavy rainfall with high wind in October caused some damage to the crop in the Pirozpur subdivision.
Chittagong	418,400	419,000	419,800	100	110	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather continued to be favourable and the growth of the crop was good.
Tippera	724,800	725,000	735,000	95	100	Ditto ...	The increase in area is due to the sowing of some of the jute fields with paddy. Since the submission of the first forecast the weather was seasonable, but some damage by insects was reported from parts of the Chandpur subdivision. The outturn obtained is normal.
Noakhali	566,900	644,000	644,500	110	125	Latter part of November. Normal.	The increase in area is due to transfer to winter rice crop of fields originally sown with jute, which was damaged by flood. There has been no change in the weather conditions since the submission of the second forecast.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	15,500	22,800	23,000	100	90*	Last week of November. Normal.	Increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. Since the submission of the second forecast the weather conditions were not unfavourable. Damage to some extent was done to the crop by the rats. The outturn has fallen slightly below the normal.
Total Bengal ...	16,075,300*	14,963,900	15,313,900*	103	98*

Fourth Report on the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1912-13.

[NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1910-11, the area under cotton crops in Bengal represents some 0·3 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.]

Explanatory.—This is the final report on the cotton crops of Bengal for the year 1912-13.

Character of the season.—The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera, and also to a small extent in the districts of Bankura and Midnapore. The late crop is grown only in the last two districts. The early crop is generally sown before the rains and the late crop partly before and partly after the rains. Weather conditions have not been uniformly favourable for the growth of either early or late cotton. Some damage has been done to the early crop by rats in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and by rats and heavy rain in the State of Hill Tippera, thus affecting the outturn considerably.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is reported to be 49,250 acres against 61,000 acres last year, the decrease being due to scarcity in Hill Tippera and the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

The area sown with late cotton is reported to be 1,900 acres against 2,000 acres last year.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of early cotton amounts to 19,406 bales against 23,902 bales last year. The outturn of late cotton works out to 1,151 bales against 1,161 bales last year.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 55 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1913), are re-published:—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that local or other circumstances may arise in which it may be necessary, on account of periodical exercises, manœuvres, or otherwise, to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II of this Notice.

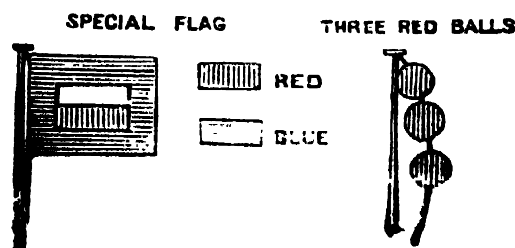
If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.



(4) Under certain circumstances it may become necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to Part III of this Notice.

(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry—

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there. or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination anchorage Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or permit anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters of vessels are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Signals to be made by vessels approaching ports when inconvenienced by search-lights.

No. 56 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 2 of 1913), are republished :—

Any vessel approaching a port in the British Empire when search-lights are being worked, and finding that they interfere with her safe navigation, may make use of the following signals, either singly or combined :—

(b) By whistle, siren, or fog-horn, four short blasts followed by one long blast.

Whenever possible, both flashing lamp signals and sound signals should be used.

On these signals being made, the search-lights will be worked, as far as circumstances will permit, so as to cause the least inconvenience, being either doused, raised, or their direction altered.

The signals should not be used without real necessity, as unless the vessel is actually in the rays of a search-light it is impossible to know which search-light is affected.

Note.

These signals are designed to assist mariners and do not render the Government liable in any way.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING 1911-12.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

LOCAL SELF-GOVT.

CALCUTTA, THE 17TH FEBRUARY 1913.

RESOLUTION—No. 454L.S.-G.

READ—

The Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1911-12

THE record of the year's working is on the whole a satisfactory one. While no special advance can be chronicled, evidences of progress are not wanting, and the increased interest that is generally displayed in questions affecting the welfare of the rural population can only be productive of good results. The relations between district officers and the District Boards have been of a cordial nature while a gratifying feature is the more promising spirit of co-operation, which has manifested itself both among the members of the various Boards and of the public generally. The reports from many districts show that members have taken a keen interest in the problems that confronted the Boards, and they have generally given valuable assistance. But this assistance has been in too many cases rendered merely in the form of discussion at ordinary meetings, and it is reported from one district that the members of the sub-committees, which should form the real working element of the Boards, have not taken that active interest which is desirable and expected of them. Too often is it the case that the burden of actual work is thrown on the Vice-Chairman, and it is largely owing to the fact that most Boards are fortunate in possessing able and energetic Vice-Chairmen that the administration has been so successful. Rural voters are often apathetic in the matter of the election of their local representatives, but it is gratifying to find that in some places the villagers have begun to appreciate the importance of sanitation and are co-operating with the Boards in their efforts to ameliorate the condition of the villages. The Boards of some districts have received substantial aid from zamindars and from the villagers towards improvements in the water-supply, the construction of primary school buildings, and village sanitation, and in the union committees they have had valuable agents for the execution of minor projects aiming at improvements in rural conditions. All Boards are fully alive to the value of education and medical relief, but the Governor in Council is not sure that their funds are administered to the best advantage, and that the powers which they possess are fully utilised in matters of sanitation, water-supply and drainage. It is true that the ordinary funds of the District Boards are insufficient to meet any large or comprehensive schemes of improvement, but with better organisation and forethought better results should be obtained with the funds that are available. The arrangements for the execution of public works are not always sound, and the hurried checking of such works in the last month of the year must often result in financial loss to the Boards. Much money too is often wasted when it is distributed in driblets over many roads or on ill-considered schemes of village sanitation. There is always a cry of lack of funds, but the large closing balances at the credit of District Boards point to an absence of system and the want of considered programmes of development. Better results will be obtained and the finances will be administered more successfully if a programme of well-matured schemes is prepared and adhered to.

His Excellency regrets to find that District Boards have not availed themselves as much as they might have done of the assistance that is offered by Government towards the improvement of the water-supply in rural areas. His Excellency does not wish to reiterate here his views on this question and on the measures which in his opinion should be carried out by District Boards. A Conference was recently held at which this question was fully considered and the conclusions at which His Excellency has arrived have been fully set forth in the Resolution of Government, No. 1518 L.S.-G., dated the 11th November 1912. He trusts, however, that District Boards will avail themselves of the offer of Government to provide an overseer for the collection of full information regarding the existing sources of water-supply, and that they will not delay in taking steps by adding to the number of tanks at the disposal of the public for drinking water and by preserving the purity of all sources of supply, to assist in removing the reproach which rests on the Presidency.

2. District Boards.—There are 25 District Boards in the Presidency. They held 379 meetings during the year as compared with 359 in the previous year. Of these, 18 were adjourned or proved abortive for want of a quorum as against 10 in 1910-11. The only Board which failed to hold a meeting once a month was the Murshidabad Board. It is explained that this was due to the small number of the items of business to be transacted. The total number of members was 509, of whom 133 hold ex-officio appointments, 166 were nominated members and 210 were elected. The average percentage of attendance both of official and non-official members showed little variation from that of 1910-11 for the province as a whole.

3. Local Boards.—The total number of meetings held during the year by Local Boards, of which there are 71 in the Presidency, was 836, of which 88 failed for want of a quorum. This is an increase on the total number of meetings in 1910-11. The increase cannot, however, be altogether taken to be a sign of vitality, for it was largely due to an increase in the number of abortive meetings. Twenty-four Local Boards failed to meet once a month. The Presidency Division is again notable for irregularity in the meetings of Local Boards. The Local Board of Kandi in Murshidabad held only four meetings, while the other two Local Boards of this district met only on five occasions. In the Nadia district no Local Board met once a month. No adequate explanation of these continued bad records in these two districts has been given, and the Commissioner will be asked to submit a special report. The average percentage of attendance of non-official members varied from 70·8 in the Burdwan Division to 38·5 in the Rajshahi Division. The attendance at the meetings of the Serajganj Local Board, to which attention was drawn in last year's Resolution, shows little improvement, and this Local Board holds the worst record. In respect of the attendance of non-official members it is, however, superior to the Local Boards of Alipur in the Jalpaiguri district and Jamalpur in Mymensingh. The percentage of attendance of non-officials in the latter Board was as low as 22·5.

4. Elections.—General elections were held and generally completed in the Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore, Hooghly and Nadia districts and in the districts of the Rajshahi Division. One election in Burdwan, that for the Sadar Local Board, was, owing to an objection, not completed during the year. Elections were also held in Bankura, but very little interest was taken in them by the people of that district: there was a failure in seven out of the nine thanas of the district, and the vacancies had to be filled up by nomination. In the Arambagh subdivision the electors failed to appear in sufficient numbers, and the elections were successful in only one thana out of three.

5. Powers of District and Local Boards.—The powers and duties of the Local Boards remained unchanged except in Burdwan. In this district the District Board has transferred to the Local Boards the work of sinking new wells and maintaining existing ones. The Indian Mining Association submitted a memorial to Government on the subject of the roads in the Asansol subdivision of this district, and put forward a proposal that these roads should be made over to the Local Board and placed under the supervision of a separate qualified Engineer. They also suggested that the cesses realised in that subdivision should be made over in a lump sum to the Local Board. The matter is now under the consideration of Government. In the Presidency Division several Local Boards were successful in raising contributions to supplement the grants placed at their disposal by the District Boards for repairs to village roads. The recommendations of the Royal Commission on Decentralization with regard to rural boards were considered by Government during the year, and the views of the Government thereon have been submitted to the Government of India. The orders requiring an expenditure of 10 per cent. of the income of District Boards on primary education were not in accord with the recommendations of the Commission, and the orders of 1895 which imposed an irreducible minimum of expenditure have been withdrawn. The Commission recommended that the rural Boards should have full powers to pass their budgets, subject only to the maintenance of a minimum balance. Under sections 48 and 49 of the Act, the Commissioner has full control over the budgets of the Boards, but Government has agreed to relax this control and to direct that the supervision of the Commissioner shall be concerned only with the following points :—

(1) The maintenance of a minimum balance.

(2) The re-payment of existing loans.

(3) Appropriation of all money contributed for a specific purpose to that purpose.

(4) Observance of legal provisions and orders of Government.

(5) Formal technical correctness of the budget.

Some latitude has also been allowed in the matter of re-appropriation of grants between minor heads under the same major head of expenditure and larger powers have been granted to rural Boards in regard to the allotment of funds and the passing of estimates of works. Local Boards have also been given extended powers in the disposal of grants made to them by District Boards.

6. Union Committees.—The Lowada Union in Midnapore was abolished, thus reducing the total number of unions in the Burdwan Division by one. In the Presidency Division, the Gourapata Union in the Jessore district was abolished, but two new committees were established at Bongong and Jhenidah towards the close of the year. No Union Committees have hitherto existed in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions : but proposals have been received for their establishment in Faridpur. The number in the Chittagong Division remained unchanged. The aggregate income of these bodies, excluding the opening balance, amounted to Rs. 29,992 as compared with Rs. 26,165 in 1910-11, and the expenditure rose from Rs. 25,804 to Rs. 27,262. In the Presidency Division, the District Board contributions constituted practically the only funds of these unions, and their only income from other sources consisted of subscriptions raised locally. In the Burdwan and Chittagong Divisions, the unions have additional sources of income in the shape of receipts under the Cattle-trespass Act, and the receipts from taxes levied for works of sanitation and water-supply in villages. Two unions in the Presidency Division have since decided to levy taxes under section 118C of the Local Self-Government Act. The Union Committee at Contai has matured a scheme under which it will raise Rs. 1,800 annually by the imposition of a local rate ; the District Board of Midnapore has decided to increase its annual grant to this figure.

7. Financial results.—The year opened with a credit balance of Rs. 22,39,931, and the total receipts of the District Boards from all sources amounted to Rs. 67,29,752. The total amount available for expenditure was thus Rs. 89,69,683, of which Rs. 66,02,340 was spent during the year, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 23,67,343. The income and expenditure for the last two years under the main heads are shown below —

The receipts from Road-cess form the mainstay of the income of District Boards, but it will be observed that they form less than half the total income of the Boards. The greater portion of the remainder consists of contributions from Government which amount to Rs. 18,08,301. These contributions are distributed under the heads "Education," "Medical," "Miscellaneous" and "Civil works."

8. Income.—Provincial Rates.—The receipts from the collection of road-cess, while exhibiting an increase of Rs. 13,701 for the whole province, show considerable variations in the various districts of the province. In the majority of the districts in the Burdwan Division, the receipts fell. This was generally due to some extent to a decrease in the demands owing to the revision of assessment. The Presidency Division showed a total decrease of Rs. 14,545, the district of the 24-Parganas alone being responsible for a decrease of Rs. 13,535 due to delay in collection. In the Dacca Division, there was an increase of Rs. 9,175 and in Chittagong of Rs. 27,798, but the receipts of the Rajshahi Division fell by Rs. 1,146. A revaluation of the rates in Chittagong accounts for the large increase in that district.

9. Police.—Pounds.—The total number of pounds maintained during the year increased from 3,775 to 3,855. and the income under this head also rose from Rs. 3,35,485 to Rs. 3,62,474, i.e., by Rs. 26,989. Most districts show an increase in receipts; the most serious falling off occurred in the Bakarganj district where several pounds remained unsettled and collections were bad. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division has drawn attention to the very defective administration of pounds in the Nadia district. The receipts for the year in this district increased as a result of improved collections of old arrears, but the outstanding arrears are still very heavy; the District Board has neglected to take prompt measures for re-settling pounds when payments fell into arrears, and has actually re-settled pounds with habitual defaulters. The system of triennial settlements, which has met with some success in Burdwan, was tried in Birbhum and Bankura, but the farmers of these two districts have shown a preference for annual settlements. In Murshidabad, on the other hand, the attempt to settle pounds for periods exceeding one year is reported to have been a success financially. A novel system known as the "Band Rakhali" system has been introduced in the district of Tippera. Under this system the people of one or more villages combine together and appoint men to guard their fields. Cattle trespassing into their fields are confined and are not released until a fine is paid for meeting the cost of the guards, who are termed "Band Rakhals." It is apprehended that this will cause a serious diminution in the Board's income from pounds unless steps are taken by legislation to put a stop to the practice. The existence of the system would, however, seem to indicate that the number of pounds is insufficient for the needs of the district, and the Board might usefully consider the question of establishing additional pounds.

10. Ferries.—There was an increase of Rs. 29,772 in the receipts from ferries. Mymensingh shows the largest increase (Rs. 9,897), which was due to an increase in the number of ferries and to the raising of tolls on the ferries over the Brahmaputra. In Rangpur and Chittagong the increase was also considerable. Many cases of plying unauthorized ferries within the prohibited distances were instituted and brought to trial in the district of the 24-Parganas, and in one case a farmer was convicted on a charge of exacting unauthorized tolls. The District Board of Midnapore have sanctioned the construction of an iron bridge over the river Selya at the Banka Ghât and the establishment on it of a toll bar has received the sanction of Government.

11. Loans.—During the year Rs. 20,000 were drawn by the 24-Parganas District Board as the first instalment of the loan of Rs. 60,000 from Government for the construction of feeder roads to the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway. The District Board of Dinajpur have taken a loan of Rs. 40,000 from Government for the construction of permanent bridges in the district.

12. Expenditure.—Administration.—The aggregate expenditure under this head increased by Rs. 9,712. The cost of office establishment rose from Rs. 1,36,056 to Rs. 1,39,505 and contingencies from Rs. 62,898 to Rs. 69,161. While the increase under "Office Establishment" is explained as due in part to the payment of the bonus on the occasion of the Coronation Durbar, no satisfactory explanation is given of the large increase in contingent expenditure which is shown in many districts, and there seems reason to fear that sufficient check is not exercised over these charges. On no other explanation can the variations in the different districts be accounted for. The percentage borne by charges on administration on the total ordinary income of the Boards ranges from 2·3 in Mymensingh to 6 in Jessore.

13. Education.—The total expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 13,21,520 to Rs. 14,52,256, and with the exception of Burdwan all divisions contributed to this increase. The decrease in Burdwan was due to various minor fluctuations. A considerable portion of the increase is, however, only nominal. In the preceding year the District Board of Mymensingh had shown expenditure on the construction of primary school buildings under the head "Civil works," and after the debit of these charges to their proper head in the year 1911-12, this Board is able to show an increased expenditure of Rs. 54,488. The total disbursements of the rural Boards in the province under "Grants-in-aid" rose from Rs. 8,75,014 to Rs. 9,52,093, and with the exception of Rajshahi all the divisions spent a larger amount under this head than in the preceding year. The number of lower primary schools maintained and aided by Boards is 24,995 as compared with 23,451 in the previous year. The reports of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions give no indication of the average emoluments of teachers in these schools. The average emoluments of schoolmasters in lower primary schools in the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions per head of students in the three upper classes were Rs. 2-2-7, Re. 1-6-9 and Re. 1-15-6, respectively. These were considerably lower than the averages of the preceding year, and it is obvious that under these conditions the standard of efficiency must be very low. The Chairman of the Dacca District Board writes: "Most of the village lower primary schools are conducted by ill-qualified teachers whose average income does not come up to Rs. 6 a month, which is hardly sufficient to attract even a day-labourer!" The policy of withdrawing aid from inefficient schools staffed by incompetent teachers in order to make increased provision for efficient lower primary schools has been adopted with advantage in the Dacca Division and in the 24-Parganas, and until untrained teachers can be replaced by trained men other Boards would be well advised in following a similar policy and devoting their aid to a smaller number of deserving institutions in preference to distributing it indiscriminately amongst a large number of inefficient schools.

14. Special Schools.—While the District Boards have devoted their available funds largely to the encouragement of lower primary education they have not neglected to maintain their existing technical institutions. But the success which has attained their efforts in this direction has not been encouraging. Burdwan and Midnapore possess technical schools, but they do not show any marked progress. The same may be said of the technical schools at Khulna where it is reported that the ease with which boys pass the matriculation examination has rendered the B class examination unpopular. The Mymensingh District Board supports the Kasi Kishore Technical School, but in this school also the number of students has diminished. Technical schools with industrial departments were maintained by the District Boards of Rajshahi, Rangpur and Pabna during the year; the school at Rangpur was provincialised from the 1st April 1912 and a proposal for the provincialisation of the school maintained by the Rajshahi Board is under consideration. The remaining Boards restrict their activities to the grant of scholarships and to grants-in-aid, but the amount of these is insignificant. There appears to be no great demand for additional encouragement of technical education, and it is significant that the allotment of five scholarships at Rs. 6 a month made by the District Board of the 24-Parganas to the Government Central Weaving School at Serampore was not utilised; although notices were widely published there were no candidates. The efforts of the Boards to develop industries have been a lamentable failure. In the Burdwan Division, a proposal for starting an industrial school at Suri was found to be impracticable, and the old sericultural school at Sabong was converted into a nursery and handed over to one of the old pupils of the school. The Dacca District Board took no action in this direction. In Mymensingh special instructors have been engaged to teach brass-casting and cane and basket work. In Bakarganj nothing was done. Two automatic handlooms, which had been purchased by the Board two years ago, lay unused until they became unserviceable. One has since been put in order by the Government weaving expert and will now be brought into use. In the Chittagong Division there is nothing to record.

15. Medical.—There was a trifling increase in the total expenditure of all the Boards for medical purposes. In the divisions of Dacca and Chittagong, there was a reduction in expenditure, but this was counter-balanced by larger expenditure in the other divisions of the province. The Bakarganj district is responsible for the largest decrease, which was due to the fact that the Board incurred no expenditure on buildings, and had sufficient medicines in hand from the purchases of 1910-11 to meet the requirements of 1911-12. The District Board of Rangpur gave a contribution of Rs. 2,000 towards the establishment of a Pasteur Institute in Shillong. The number of dispensaries wholly maintained by the Boards increased from 113 to 119 and the number aided by them rose from 229 to 237. One new dispensary was opened in each of the districts of Burdwan, Rajshahi and Pabna, while two were added to those maintained and aided by the Boards of the 24-Parganas and Nadia. In Chittagong, the Sitakund dispensary was transferred from the management of the Board to that of a Dispensary Committee. The Burdwan Board not only maintained the existing five temporary floating dispensaries for fever cases but added five more dispensaries of a similar kind. The Boards of the Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions maintain no medical institutions of their own, but they contribute aid to a large number of dispensaries within their area.

The arrangements for the sale of quinine are different in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions from those which prevail in the other divisions of the province. In the former divisions the charges incidental to its distribution are borne by the District Boards, but the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam took upon itself the burden of all expenditure on this account in the divisions which formed part of that province. The reports from the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions show a marked increase in the demand for the drug; in Murshidabad the demand was so great that during the fever season the Sanitary Commissioner had difficulty in providing an adequate supply. In this district quinine hydrochloride in treatments was introduced, and proved more popular than sulphate of quinine in powder or in tabloids.

16. Sanitation.—The figures of expenditure on sanitation are somewhat misleading as in some districts they include charges incurred on the improvement of water-supply and in part only on measures for dealing with epidemics. But they represent in the main the expenditure on cleaning khals and tanks, on the excavation and maintenance of drains, and on jungle-clearing. The total expenditure of the year on this account was Rs. 25,528. This may be taken to represent the amount of expenditure on sanitation proper, but it is a very insignificant amount when considered from the point of view of the work to be done. In 16 districts the expenditure was less than Rs. 1,000; in Bankura, Nadia, Murshidabad, Chittagong, Noakhali and Jalpaiguri no expenditure at all was incurred. The Patna system of sanitation, which consists in the employment of peripatetic gangs of workers who move from village to village, continued to prove a success in the Burdwan Division. The Midnapore District Board initiated schemes for the raising of funds by local contributions and taxation towards the conservancy of the town of Contai. A village sanitary committee has been formed in Sarishabari in the district of Mymensingh and is reported to be working fairly well. The Local Boards in Bakarganj spent over Rs. 3,000 in cleaning tanks, khals and jungles. The funds at the disposal of Boards do not allow them to embark on any large schemes for improving sanitary conditions but it should be possible for District Boards by the formulation of systematic programmes and the development of Union Committees to carry out minor projects which should prove of lasting benefit to rural areas.

17. Veterinary charges.—The total expenditure under this head in 1910-11 was swollen in many districts by the payment of arrear contributions to Government towards the pay and allowances of veterinary assistants as a consequence of their admission to the Provincial Service, and the small increase in the expenditure in 1911-12 is not a real indication of the increase in the activities of the department. Additions are being made to the number of veterinary assistants, and the figures showing the extent of their work indicate a great advance on former years. The veterinary assistants are popular, and the benefits derived from their advice and aid are becoming daily more appreciated by the people.

18. Civil works.—The total outlay of the year on civil works showed an increase of Rs. 3,19,072 as compared with the previous year. A large part of this increase is due to the expenditure incurred by the District Board of Barisal in the construction of water-works at that place at a cost of Rs. 1,19,470. The expenditure on "Communications—Original works" amounted to Rs. 9,27,985 while that on "Communications—Repairs" was Rs. 17,44,577. The District Board of the 24-Parganas showed commendable activity in the construction and improvement of railway feeder roads. In all 262 miles were added to the total mileage of roads under the charge of the District Boards.

The Bakarganj District Board has, on the suggestion of its District Engineer, adopted a new system in dealing with the repairs to roads. Under the old system in force a single estimate was framed for the repair of each road, and this estimate included all items of expenditure of the year for the particular work. It could not be prepared until after the rains, and the result was that all works were hurriedly pushed through towards the close of the year, and no proper time was available for checking the work properly before payment. The Board has now decided that the earthwork and bridge repairs should be separately estimated for and carried out before the rainy season, while the dressing of earth and jungle-clearing should be included in another estimate and be executed after the rains. This system has made it possible to distribute the expenditure throughout the year. It has enabled the Engineer staff to exercise proper supervision and to check all works before payment, and the Board is able to show in its accounts that it has spent its money on work actually done during the year. His Excellency in Council is in some doubt as to the soundness of this system. Although it possesses the advantages stated, it is not clear that it does not result in actual financial loss to the Board, which may find at the beginning of the cold weather that the rains have been responsible for undoing much of the work that was completed before they set in. His Excellency hesitates therefore to commend the adoption of the system to the consideration of the other Boards of the province, and he desires that the full effect of the new system should form the subject of special comment in the Commissioner's next report.

19 Water-supply and water-works.—The total expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 3,55,517 as compared with Rs. 2,02,441 in the previous year, the increase being mainly due to the expenditure of Rs. 1,19,470 incurred by the District Board of Bakarganj on the Barisal water-works. In addition to the expenditure on the Barisal water-works, this Board made a contribution of Rs. 6,000 towards the cost of the Perojpur water-works. Three other Boards utilised a portion of their funds in giving assistance to the construction of new water-works. The District Board of Hooghly paid Rs. 10,000, the balance of its contribution, to the Hooghly-Chinsura

Municipality for water-works. The Jessore Board contributed Rs. 5,000 to the Jessore Municipality for a similar purpose. With the assistance of a donation of Rs. 20,000 made by the Hon'ble Rai Sitanath Ray Bahadur, the District Board of Dacca was able to make a contribution of Rs. 24,378 to the Munshiganj water-works. In each of the districts of Bankura, Howrah, Chittagong, Tippera, Bogra, Rangpur, Pabna and Malda, the expenditure on water-supply amounted to less than Rs. 5,000. Although as many as 8 out of the 25 districts of the province spent less than Rs. 5,000, the figure which is usually regarded as the minimum which should be attained by all Boards, His Excellency is glad to observe that District Boards are generally giving more attention to this all important matter. He is not, however, altogether satisfied that the funds available are being utilised to the fullest advantage, and he considers that the resources of the Boards might be more usefully applied in improving the existing sources of water-supply than in the construction of a few scattered wells and tanks. A particularly useless method of spending money is the construction of ring-wells, which last but a few years and then have to be replaced. His Excellency in Council has recently expressed his views on the subject of the water-supply in rural areas in a recent Resolution, and has intimated the willingness of Government to assist District Boards in collecting information as to the real condition of the water-supply in each district and to bear the cost of the appointment for one year of a sub-overseer for each subdivision of the province to visit every village for this purpose. But the most practical method of dealing with this question is the formation of Union Committees with power to raise taxes for the improvement of their water-supply. The Local Self-Government Act, as amended by Act V of 1908, empowers Union Committees to levy a small rate, and the extension of the particular provisions of this Act for this purpose, which at present are in force only in the Western Bengal districts, to the Eastern Bengal districts is now under the consideration of Government.

It was the practice of the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam to contribute through the Sanitary Board one-third of the cost of water-supply works on condition that the local public contributed another third and the District Board the remainder. This arrangement has not always proved successful. Contributions from local sources have as a rule been obtained only from private individuals, and they have usually been accompanied by the condition that the site of the new tank shall be particularly convenient to the donors, no consideration being paid to the interests of the villagers. In Bengal another practice prevailed by which Government contributed in every year one-third of the expenditure incurred by a Board in the preceding year on the improvement of local water-supplies up to a maximum of Rs. 3,000 a year in favour of individual Boards. The practice will be adopted in future throughout the new Presidency. It is automatic in action and enables a Board to take up work at any time that may be convenient with the certainty of obtaining a grant from Government. Its benefits are also cumulative in that the Government grant in the following year is intended to be again spent on water-supply and therefore leads to a further grant.

20. Drainage.—The expenditures on "Original works" and "Repairs" under this head during the year under review were Rs. 4,343 and Rs. 2,453 as against Rs. 7,491 and Rs. 3,078 in the preceding year. There was no expenditure under this head in the Burdwan Division, while the actual expenditure in the Presidency Division was very small. The District Board of the 24-Parganas, however, spent a sum of Rs. 1,08,415 in connection with the Magrahat drainage scheme and on survey work in connection with the preparation of a project for the improvement of the Nawi and Sunthi rivers under the Sanitary Drainage Act. This expenditure has been included under the head "Minor works and navigation." No important drainage scheme was undertaken in Eastern Bengal. The District Board of Rajshahi paid Rs. 1,000 to the Steamer Companies as a contribution towards the cost of keeping open the channel of the Padma near Rampur-Boalia town. This is a work of much importance both to the health of the town and its communications.

21. Arboriculture.—The expenditure under this sub-head shows a rise of Rs. 4,655 as compared with the previous year's figures, and with the exception of Dacca and Faridpur all Boards incurred some expenditure on this account. The outlay was largest in the Mymensingh district (Rs. 3,816). The Mymensingh District Board has abandoned its former plan of working on one road in each subdivision, and has decided to concentrate the work of planting new avenues on one road at a time till it is completed. With this view, a quinquennial programme of work has been prepared. The Malda District Board has also prepared a quinquennial programme of arboricultural projects for the area within its charge. This system is commended to the notice of all Boards.

22. Railways.—The Boards appear to be fully alive to the need for improved railway communications and the possibilities of light railways as sources of revenue.

The Midnapore District Board have under consideration a proposal for the construction of a light railway from Belda to Contai. In Nadia the sanction of Government was given to the formation of a company for the construction of a light railway from Krishnagar to Jillinghee. The District Board of Jessore gave a guarantee to Messrs. K. M. Dey & Co. for the construction of a light railway line from Jessore to Jhenida with a branch from Kaliganj to Kotechandpur and the work is in progress. The Khulna District Board have entered into a provisional agreement with Messrs. Martin & Co. for the construction of two light railway lines from Navaran to Satkhira and from Khulna to Bagerhat.

In the Dacca Division no light railways exist, and the need for railways in this flourshing and thickly populated division is urgent. But light railways will not meet the requirements of these districts. The initial cost of the permanent-way with its heavy embankment work and numerous costly bridges would be very high and far beyond the purse of local bodies. An improvement in railway communication can be effected only by ordinary railways, for the development of which there is ample scope. The Mymensingh District Board have deferred consideration of the proposal for the construction of a light railway from Bansi to Tangail until a decision has been arrived at in regard to the site of the new head-quarter station in the event of the district being divided. The Faridpur District Board sanctioned the proposal for a light railway from Faridpur to Bhanga to be constructed by Messrs. K. M. Dey & Co.

23. Closing balances.—It has been a standing reproach against District Boards that they have failed to utilise their income to the full extent and have allowed large balances to accumulate at the close of the year. There has been no improvement in this respect, and His Excellency the Governor in Council regrets to observe that while the actual balance at the close of the year shows little variaton from that at its commencement, the amount of deposits which mostly represents uncashed cheques for work done is as much as Rs. 1,53,241 in excess of that at the close of 1910-11. The variations are small in many districts, but in only seven has there been any improvement.

Many Boards have added considerably to the amount of outstanding deposits, and the Boards of the 24-Parganas and Mymensingh are conspicuous in this respect. With few exceptions the deposits are unduly large and the explanation, where furnished, is the usual one that the close of the financial year coincides with the middle of the working season. Work is checked in a hurried and imperfect manner in order to allow payments to be made before the 31st March, and payments are largely crowded into the closing weeks of the year. Even then it is impossible to cash many of the cheques issued. It should, however, be possible with better organisation and forethought to secure better results, His Excellency is unable to understand why all District Boards should not be as successful as the District Boards of Howrah, Bakarganj and Chittagong in clearing off their dues. These three Boards had only Rs. 4,688, Rs. 7,546 and Rs. 1,308 left in deposit after having incurred an actual total expenditure of Rs. 1,60,934, Rs. 5,04,726 and Rs. 2,58,568, respectively. The District Board of Mymensingh, on the other hand, expended a sum of Rs. 5,94,331, and had as much as Rs. 1,38,587 in deposit mostly representing uncashed cheques ; several other Boards, notably those in the Rajshahi Division, show equally bad results.

The actual balance apart from deposits at the credit of many Boards is, however, excessive, and His Excellency in Council cannot but come to the conclusion that these Boards have failed either through want of foresight or through mismanagement to utilise their resources to the fullest extent or in the best possible manner. It is not to the credit of the Burdwan Board that it should have spent Rs. 4,74,817 during the year and had at its close so large an amount as Rs. 2,85,510 as its actual balances. The actual closing balances of the Midnapore (Rs. 1,71,078) and Mymensingh (Rs. 1,47,655) Boards are also excessive. It is explained that these high balances result from delay in obtaining sanction to projects, failure on the part of contractors and difficulty in securing sites. The high closing balance of the District Board of the 24-Parganas includes the contribution of Rs. 2,00,000 from Government towards the improvement of the Sunthi-Nawi rivers, and the unspent balance of the loan for the Magrahat drainage.

PROTECTION OF JUVENILE OFFENDERS FROM CONTAMINATION BY ASSOCIATION WITH HARDENED CRIMINALS IN JAILS.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

POLICE.

RESOLUTION—No. 1394 P.

CALCUTTA THE 14TH FEBRUARY 1913.

READ—

A report No. $\frac{\text{O. 1229-78-12}}{11926}$, dated the 20th August 1912, submitted by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and Mr. H. P. Duval, I.C.S., officiating District and Sessions Judge, 24-Parganas, containing their recommendations as to the procedure to be adopted by the police and the courts in cases in which juvenile offenders are concerned, together with a draft Bill for giving effect to their recommendations.

Read also—

The proceedings of meetings held by the Committee appointed to consider the question.

For sometime past the attention of Government has been called to the necessity for the protection of juvenile offenders from contamination and the other evil influences to which they are exposed by association with hardened criminals in jails, if subjected to the ordinary procedure of criminal courts. In June 1910, the then Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Edward Baker, directed that, with a view to a further differentiation of the treatment of juvenile and adult accused, an examination of procedure, both police and judicial, in cases concerning such offenders, should be undertaken by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, in consultation with the Chief Presidency Magistrate. The late Chief Presidency Magistrate, Dr. Thornhill, who was then on special duty, was also asked to go into the question of the establishment of children's courts in Calcutta. In October 1910, Dr. Thornhill submitted the following recommendations:—

(1) that a large industrial school should be established ;
(2) that separate lock-ups should be provided for juvenile offenders at Lal Bazar, Alipore and Sealdah ;
(3) that the law on the subject should be amended on the lines of the English law ; and
(4) that juvenile prisoners should be sent from court by carriage direct to the juvenile jail at Alipore.

2. In regard to the proposed establishment of a separate juvenile court, Dr. Thornhill was of opinion that the number of juveniles who come up for trial would not justify this step unless the law were amended on the lines suggested by him. The Commissioner of Police was then directed to draw up proposals on the subject with the assistance of Mr. (now the Hon'ble Mr. Justice) Richardson and Mr. Weston. The two latter being unable for unavoidable reasons to assist until the enquiries were complete were replaced by Mr. Duval and Dr. D. P. Sarbadhicary. In the meantime orders were issued by Government for the segregation of under-trial juveniles in separate lock-ups, for the conveyance of convicted juveniles direct by carriage to the juvenile jail at Alipore and for the trial of charges against juvenile accused persons by a selected Presidency Magistrate from whose Court the public were to be excluded while such cases were being heard

3. In drawing up the proposals contained in their joint report and in drafting the Bill, Sir F. Halliday and Mr. Duval have been assisted materially by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Richardson, the Hon'ble Dr. D. P. Sarbadhicary, Dr. D. N. Mullick and Mr. P. K. Acharji ; all these gentlemen have bestowed much care and thought on the subject and the thanks of Government are due to them.

4. The proposals now before Government are far reaching and will need a large measure of public support before they can be carried into effect.

Moreover, His Excellency in Council is of opinion that before Government can take the proposals into consideration it is desirable that they should be subjected to further scrutiny by a larger and more representative committee. The following are some of the features of the Bill which in particular require further examination:—

(a) the question of industrial schools dealt with in Chapter II of the draft Bill,

(b) the suitability or otherwise of existing charitable institutions for the accommodation and training of juvenile offenders,

(c) the appointment of probation officers,

(d) the establishment of juvenile courts, and of houses of detention, and

(e) measures to be taken to remove other practical difficulties which are likely to be encountered in introducing these reforms.

5. The most important part of the scheme concerns the establishment of industrial schools, and before Government resort to legislation they must be satisfied that suitable arrangements can be made for the housing and training of the children and juveniles to whom the procedure will be applicable. The Governor in Council accordingly directs that a committee be formed of the following gentlemen to consider the proposals contained in the report submitted by Sir F. Halliday and Mr. Duval and to favour Government with their views:—

Hon'ble Sir William Duke, K.C.I.E., C.S.I. ...	President.
Hon'ble Mr. Justice T. W. Richardson	Members.
Hon'ble Mr. J. G. Cumming, C.I.E.
Hon'ble Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, C.V.O. ...
Hon'ble Mr. G. W. Küchler, C.I.E.
Sir F. L. Halliday, KT., C.I.E., M.V.O.
Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Buchanan, C.I.E. ...
Dr. D. P. Sarbadhicary
Dr. D. N. Mullick
Mr. P. K. Acharji
Rai Nanda Lal Bagchi Bahadur
Rai Chuni Lal Bose Bahadur

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Summary.—During the week under report the rainfall was general over the Province. The fall was rather heavy in the Sadar subdivisions of Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore and Jessore and generally light to moderate elsewhere.
